Rusk's Firm On Western Stand For Berlin Parley

BULLETIN
NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk called on the United Nations General Assembly today to name "an outstanding world leader" to take over the powers of U.N. secretary-general temporarily.

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev apparently must decide in the next week or so whether he wants to negotiate on a compromise settlement of the Berlin crisis or force his demands for Western concessions closer to the brink of war.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk is understood to have told Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko here Thursday that the Western powers have no intention of accepting Khrushchev's terms for negotiation. The Soviet leader has insisted the West must accept his proposal for a peace treaty with divided Germany as the basis of a deal over West Berlin.

Rusk told Gromyko the United States, Britain, France and West Germany want a peaceful solution of the Berlin issue but that they will never yield to Soviet threats or bargain away their basic rights in the disputed city. Gromyko gave no sign of willingness to modify the Soviet position, but did agree to meet Rusk again next week.

The interval between sessions gives both men time to report to their respective chiefs—President Kennedy and Khrushchev. Rusk is expected also to inform Allied governments. While there is no time limit on the talks, Western diplomats say Khrushchev's decision on a basis for East-West negotiations should be made known in a week or so.

Rusk has an opportunity today to explain publicly the stand of the United States and its Allies as developed in a Western foreign ministers conference at Washington a week ago. He will address a luncheon meeting of the Foreign Press Association with a question and answer session to follow.

The U. S. and Soviet foreign policy chiefs met in Rusk's skyscraper suite in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel for 4½ hours Thursday. The session was the first in a series initiated by Rusk to find out whether a basis for East-West negotiations is possible.

Half a dozen aides and advisers of each attended the luncheon, including Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin, the top U. S. and Soviet delegates to the United Nations.

Around the blue-clothed dining table the conferees talked over the problems of peace in Laos, where Red military successes earlier this year forced the U.S.-supported Laotian government and the Western powers to seek a solution in neutrality for the Asian kingdom.

They also discussed the leadership crisis in the United Nations following the death of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

First Case In Ohio

4 Indicted For Numbers Forms Face Extradition

Pittsburgh Men Cited In Lisbon Raid

County Grand Jury Names Quartet And Sales Book Concern

Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy said at Columbus he plans to extradite four Pittsburgh men indicted under the state's new anti-gambling law unless they subject themselves to Ohio law.

The indictments, returned Thursday by the recalled Columbiana County Grand Jury, were the first against individuals since the Ohio law making the numbers racket a felony became effective Sept. 1.

They were returned, individually and corporately, against four officers of the Lisbon Sales Book Co. and against the corporation itself. They resulted from a raid led personally by McElroy Sept. 6.

The individuals were indicted on two charges each: For manufacturing and printing numbers materials and for aiding and abetting a crime. Named in the indictments were Martin Sufrin, president of Lisbon Sales Book Co.; Isadore Sufrin, vice president Joseph Sufrin, secretary-treasurer, and Michael Schmidlmeier, general manager.

The corporate indictment was on the accusation the company printed and manufactured numbers books.

The indictments were presented to Common Pleas Judge Joel Sharp.

McElroy said the four will be notified when the date is set for their arraignment.

If they fail to appear at the arraignment, McElroy said the state will then take steps to extradite them. They reside at 1207 Muriel St., Pittsburgh.

Five cylindrical printing presses and large supplies of books said to be used in writing policy slips were seized in the raid. McElroy said then the company was the third largest numbers slip supplier in the nation, shipping to a dozen eastern states. No plant employes were arrested and the owners were away at the time of the raid. Three plant employes later appeared before the grand jury.

Maximum penalties are three years in prison and fine of $1,000.

The bill returned by the panel in the one-day session was technically a secret indictment, Prosecutor William Brokaw said.

John W. Gleason of Columbus, assistant attorney general, presented the case yesterday.

Gleason was aided by Atty. Jack Nybell of Youngstown, also an assistant. Two agents from the Bureau of Criminal Identification Investigation at London testified, along with three plant employes and three Wellsville men.

The September Grand Jury convened last week and returned 32 indictments for the accumulation of county cases, then was ordered to return yesterday for the numbers slips investigation.

Full Debate Set For U.N. On Red China

Seating Issue Gets Approval Of Both U.S., Soviet Union

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The explosive question of whether Red China should be admitted to the United Nations today was assured a full assembly debate for the first time in U.N. history.

The United States and the Soviet Union both voted to put it on the General Assembly's agenda but with different goals. Washington is trying to keep Peiping out of the world organization and Moscow wants to bring in its Chinese ally.

The balance of power in the voting may rest with the new African nations, some of whom are friendly toward Peiping.

The Chinese question was one of several issues that brought on sharp debate in the assembly's 21-nation Steering Committee on Thursday.

Overriding bitter Soviet objections, the committee vowed to set up a separate debate on a treaty to end nuclear tests. The United States and Britain, sponsors of the move, hope this will spotlight the new round of tests started by the Soviet Union. Soviet representatives tried to have the question lumped with the assembly's debate on all disarmament questions.

Also approved for debate was the question of U.N. aid to prevent population growth. The topic was suggested by Sweden and Denmark and opposed by a number of Roman Catholic countries who fear this will lead to a U.N. debate on birth control.

Outside the committee, a move got under way to bypass Soviet opposition and name a stop-gap successor to the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold. Support was growing for the assembly to name an interim chief of the U.N. secretariat.

Chester Gets Set For Part In Fund Drive

Under the direction of Robert W. Gray, district Boy Scout executive, the Chester Division of the upcoming Community Fund campaign held its first organizational meeting Thursday night at Chester City Hall.

Serving with Gray as an Advisory Board are Eugene Hall, Russell Davis, Walter Jordan and Mrs. Charles French.

According to Gray, a total of more than 40 volunteers are being recruited for the separate Chester fund unit, which will conduct its solicitation in conjunction with the area Community Fund campaign in October.

Approximately 160 prospective Chester donors have been divided into nine classifications, each to be contacted by an assigned team of solicitors. At last night's meeting, donor lists were drawn up and assigned to these nine team captains:

Robert Edwards, groceries and restaurants; Leland Fowler, insurance and tourist homes; Mrs. Ruth Cox Turner, mercantile; Walter Jordan, public service; James D. Cooper, drugstores and professional; Ralph Hobbs, garages and service stations; Dale Allison, miscellaneous businesses; Mrs. Robert Gray, beauty shops, dry cleaners and barbers; Richard Mey, taverns.

Richard Emmerling, Community Fund campaign chairman, also addressed the group briefly, pointing out the "many direct benefits to Chester residents through the six Community Fund agencies. . .such as the 250 boys who take part in Boy Scouting. . .or the 171 Girl Scouts from Chester. Last year, the Salvation Army gave aid and comfort to 15 families in the Chester area. The Recreation Council provides qualified supervision of five Chester playgrounds. And, we all know that we have only the one YMCA in East Liverpool to serve this entire tri-state area. . .there is no question but that good use is made of its facilities by both adults and young people. We know, too, that

Red Offensive Against Viet Nam Forecast

May Press Regular Forces Into Drive Seen In November

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some military authorities today forecast a drive by Communist North Viet Nam to grab part of anti-Communist South Viet Nam, possibly by using regular forces instead of guerrilla infiltrators.

Such an offensive, they said, could come in November and December, after the rainy season ends in that part of the world.

A move of this sort could present the United States with a grave challenge about the time the Berlin crisis might be coming to a head. Such twin threats thousands of miles apart would put considerable strain on U.S. military resources.

"One thing is fairly clear," said one military expert on Southeast Asia. "The North Vietnamese want some kind of an enclave to play with politically."

By this, he indicated a belief that the North Vietnamese Reds may be anxious to occupy a slice of South Viet Nam, as a base for creating a puppet "government" to rival the pro-Western regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Up to now, the Communists have relied chifely on hit-and-run guerrilla bands in the years-long offensive. Sometimes they have managed through terror tactics to dominate regions of South Viet Nam, but never to take them over entirely. The Communists rarely have challenged the American-trained South Vietnamese Army in full dress battle.

The Kennedy administration has undertaken a big increase in U.S. military aid to South Viet Nam, pointed in part at building up that country's army, providing better arms and other equipment.

Jury Ignores Charge Against City Resident

The recalled September Grand Jury Thursday returned indictments against a Lisbon man and a Lisbon area youth, and ignored a charge against an East Liverpool man.

Indicted were Herbert McCullough of Pleasant Heights, Lisbon, assault and battery on Charlesetta Wilson, also of Lisbon, and Howard Cusick, 17, of Lisbon R. D. 2, formerly of Cleveland, operating a motor vehicle without the owners consent.

A charge of assault to rape against Clarence Jones, 28, of 8th Ave., LaCroft, was ignored.

The panel reported to Judge Joel H. Sharp at 3:30 p. m. The judge excused the jury, but advised members they would be on call for duty until a new panel is selected in January.

Foreign Aid Seen Bar To Adjournment

Congress Aims To End First Session By Saturday Night

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign aid remains the toughest problem for Congress to settle before adjournment.

Senators and House members already were drifting away from Washington as leaders on both sides passed the word they were determined to close down the first session of the 87th Congress Saturday night.

Senate-House conferees held their first sessions on the foreign aid bill Thursday and broke up in flat disagreement without even fixing a meeting time for today. But they were expected to get togehter by this afternoon.

The Senate passed a $4,196,600,000 bill while the House voted $539 million less. House conferees Thursday demurred strongly against accepting compromise figures close to the Senate version.

The controversial bill to ease the tax burden on DuPont Co. stockholders who might receive General Motors stock in a divestiture proceeding comes up for Senate debate today.

But chances for final action on it this session appeared slim. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he would put it over until January if prolonged controversy developed.

The House passed the bill Tuesday night and the Senate Finance Committee cleared it in a late session Wednesday night.

Hurricane Heads Out Into Atlantic

By The Associated Press

Hurricane Esther, downgraded to a tropical storm, headed on out to sea today. Her center never touched the American mainland.

The Boston Weather Bureau Thursday night reported she was traveling northeasterly into the Atlantic with a center wind velocity of less than 70 miles per hour.

The Canadian maritime provinces, alerted for any big blow, were told to expect winds of only 40 m.p.h. and a fair amount of rainfall.

Esther inflicted much less damage than expected, and no deaths directly attributable to the storm were reported.

An alert along the entire Eastern Seaboard aided considerably.

Most of the damage was caused by high winds which blew down trees and power lines, by high coastal tides, and by flooding due to heavy rainfall.

New England, remembering the devastating hurricane of 1958, girded for heavy damage. But Esther veered to sea when it appeared she would make her first landfall at Cape Cod.

Among the Cape Codders evacuated were President Kennedy's two children, Caroline, 3, and John Jr., 9 months. They were taken from Hyannis Port, Mass., to Otis Air Force Base.

Youth Is Shot By Hunter

Wellsville District Victim Listed 'Fair'

A 16-year-old Wellsville youth — first squirrel hunting casualty in Columbiana County for the 1961 season — is in "fair" condition today at Salem City Hospital.

James Woyan, 549 Oakgrove Rd., Wellsville, suffered shotgun wounds of the chest, left shoulder, left side and abdomen when hit by a charge fired by another hunter on the Conkle farm in Middleton Township Thursday night about 7.

Woyan, who was visiting a cousin, Carl George of Clarkson, was hunting alone when struck by the charge fired by Jack Dunham, 25, of Clarkson who aimed his 20-gauge weapon at a squirrel on a fallen log.

Woyan was in the line of fire and shouted when hit. Dunham tried to help Woyan walk to the Conkle farmhouse, but the youth was too weak, so Dunham ran for aid.

An East Palestine physician and Negley volunteer firemen took the youth to the hospital.

Chester Park Heads Reject Sale Of Land

Postal Department Sought Tract For New Post Office

The Chester City Park Commission Thursday announced it has decided to turn down a proposal to sell a tract of land at the park for the site of a post office building.

An offer of $10,000 for a 100-x-160-foot lot along the 5th St. side of the park had been submitted to the commission Sept. 6, and the members took the proposal under study.

However, members issued a public statement yesterday saying the offer had been turned down after "much debate and many inquiries."

The commission said that although Chester High School will probably not be using the field for football after 1962 or 1963 "and we have no way of knowing what use will be made of the field in the next 10 or 20 years, we still are against selling the lot."

A new 600-pupil senior high school is to be erected near Pughtown as part of major revision of the school system which would combine the Chester, Newell and New Cumberland education pro-

225 At Salem Rally

Rep. Robert Taft Jr. Calls DiSalle's Record 'Pitiful'

SALEM — State Rep. Robert Taft Jr. of Cincinnati lashed out at what he called "the pitiful record" of Ohio Gov. Michael DiSalle in an address before approximately 225 persons at the countywide Republican rally at Memorial Building here Thursday night.

The son of the late U. S. Senator, Rep. Taft told his audience that the purpose of his talk was to "dispel some of the gloom about the terrible shape DiSalle says the state is in because the Republican legislature won't go along with his theory of government."

Taft said he was referring to some of the statements DiSalle made at the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner held by the Democrats Monday at Beaver Local High School.

In that talk, DiSalle accused the Republican-dominated legislature of lack of vision in opposing his program.

Taft said the governor's theory is that the solution to all problems in the state is to spend more of the taxpayers' money for what he thinks is good for them.

"We've had a taste of this program during the past two years," the speaker remarked. "This is one of the principal things that is wrong with the state, and we of the Republican party have been trying to correct it."

"Specifically," Taft continued, "it was said that Ohio is lagging in industry, in natural resources, in education and in mental health.

"As to industry, may I suggest that tripling the corporation franchise tax, adding close to $400 million to our tax load in the last biennium and sabotaging our unemployment compensation law have hardly contributed to a fa-

What Does It All Mean?

West Germans are reported to be clamoring for the resignation of Konrad Adenauer as chancellor, following last Sunday's election. Failure of the aging German leader's party to hold its once top-heavy legislative majority is supposed to have robbed him of his popular backing. That is hard to believe. It was his party that lost backing, not Adenauer.

The tipoff on what it hasn't robbed him of is the probability he will be kept in office until current difficulties are out of the way. If West Germany had a substitute for its "old one," his retirement would be done with no waste of time. He is not indispensable, but at the moment he is not replaceable.

In politics it's the image that makes the difference as often as it is the skill and resourcefulness of the leadership, itself. An 85-year-old Konrad Adenauer suits West Germans at this moment. They are in harmony with him as an image of maturity and prudence—the vaunted "father image" that always has had singular appeal for the German people.

In Turkey, on the other hand, there is no place for a father image. Turkish politics has lent itself to one of the most brutal episodes of mid-century savagery by executing a once-heroic figure, Adnan Menderes, a former premier, and two top ministers in his former cabinet.

The three men were accused of violating the constitution of Turkey, but they and 43 former Menderes officials who have been sentenced to life imprisonment are clearly guilty of only one public crime. They were caught in a political cul-de-sac that made it expedient for military dictators to kill them to prove its heartlessness and thus satisfy a demand for revenge.

Things like this are not easy for Americans to understand. Trying to guess the reasons for foreign political decisions is a project in futility. It is easier to guess what Americans meant when they made their political decisions.

It is only a happenstance that the guessing is still going on here about the decision made a year ago next month when enigmatic Americans set up a new federal administration by a popular vote so narrow it couldn't be measured and an electoral vote so it could have been toppled over by a breath of scandal.

Comforting Thought

Benches have added a note of comfort to the fountain in the Diamond.

They will have a real practical value if used properly. For weary shoppers nothing is more welcome than a spot to "get a load off their feet".

The only drawback will be if undesirable loiterers take advantage of the benches to the point where the desirable shoppers find it necessary to move on — tired tootsies or no tired tootsies. Such a situation, however, if it arises, probably can be corrected without too much trouble by the policeman on the beat.

It's rather relaxing merely to know that the benches are there ready for duty. The Garden Club deserves another pat on the back for its latest project.

Fatter Margin Of Safety

Ohio's new law about driving with full headlights 30 minutes after sunset and before sunrise aims to get a good result with a shaky approach.

The good result is an extra margin of safety on the highways, because the old law gave drivers an hour's leeway after sunset and before sunrise. That was too much.

The new law also says parking lights are no substitute for full headlights, which also fattens the margin of safety.

But the problem is that 30-minute rule about the setting and rising sun. It was tough enough to guess sunset and sunrise within an hour, but guessing within 30 minutes gives a driver no choice worth mentioning.

He will find it necessary to stay on the safe side of the law by, turning on full headlights whenever there is any doubt about visibility. That is what he is supposed to do anyway — play safe.

Last Labor Day many drivers played safe all day by driving with their lights on, to call attention to their safety-mindedness.

From now on in Ohio, a driver wanting to be sure he is within the law will turn on headlights when the sun starts to set and will keep them on until sunrise is over.

It shouldn't be necessary to spell out common sense practices in state statutes, but it is. If the approach seems a little shaky sometimes, it's because all attempts to spell out common sense are likely to seem that way.

Leaders Needed

Another opportunity for leadership is offered in an appeal by the East End Girl Scout Neighborhood Association for adults to supervise a Brownie troop and an intermediate troop.

If you feel you can do a good job, contact the association. Experience is not necessary, since a training course will be provided.

There's a wealth of self-satisfaction to be derived along with a feeling of performing a worthwhile service to the community when helping to get our young people started on the right path.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Nursing by electronics is latest idea in medical world. By mechanical-brain monitoring system, work of 10 nurses can be done in taking pulses, blood pressures, temperatures, etc. But what country needs is automation system for obtaining nurse when you're sick.

Shortage of these all-important girls and women is terrific. To get round-the-clock nurses is almost impossible, and it seems beyond human hands to obtain even one. Demand exceeds supply, especially if you're sick over weekends and holidays. Our guess is that even electronics can't solve this one.

Electronic monitoring system will save nurses much time, as charts will be automatically recorded at a central hospital station.

There may even be a video screen to show a patient blowing top when he or she can't get answer to electric button or is trying to report the lunch is cold.

One engineer advocates conveyor belts for delivering food, pillows, medicines and other necessities to hospital bedsides. He says 50 per cent of nurses' time is taken up running from room to room. He may have a bright idea, but belt conveyor substituting for Florence Nightingale is a chilling thought.

It could mean hospital scrambled eggs by shuttle and a sleeping pill by escalator. Ultimately the sick might get a doctor by telecast, a head nurse by remote control and an extra sheet through mechanical brain.

Let's not forget one all important factor in helping the sick. It's the real, live, ever-helpful nurse arriving in the old fashioned way and functioning as she always did.

What our sick need is the human touch and compassionate note unassisted by conveyor belts.

In convalescence good looks count heavily. Whether the nurse is a blonde, brunette or redhead can be a big factor. There will never be such a thing as a glamorous conveyor belt or a charming electronics gadget.

Hail to the American nurse! Block those scientists and engineers!

Five-cent postage stamp is near and the fellow about to buy groceries, get a haircut or have a shoeshine will have to decide if he can afford these things and still write a letter. High cost of correspondence will cut down output of "Hope you are all well" and "Don't forget to put out cat" letters.

Effect on romance can be extra rough. "Junk" mail will cost less postage than love letters, and following from boy to girl friend is possible.

"The five-cent stamp lets junk mail off easy but socks me and you. This is just a short note to tell you that from now on all my letters to you will be unsealed envelopes and in one corner will be the words "GOING OUT OF BUSINESS. PRICES CUT 50 PER CENT." "At first I thought of YOU CAN WIN $25,000" or 'SPECIAL THURSDAY MEAT SALE.' But I chose the other, to save money and you will be able to pick out my letters from the junk stuff.

"My love is not junk, baby. I just think the P.O. Dept. should know it is as important for me to sell undying affection, which you want, as to for companies to sell crabgrass killers, flea powders, groceries, cut rate lamps and detergents you don't want.

"The P.O. should make it tough for personal correspondence. This world is so full of bad news Washington should encourage people to correspond about love and kisses, engagement rings, etc., but Uncle Sam goes ahead and makes it not only harder to mail letters but harder to get answers.

"Things are depressing all over. I will make this short but I expect to get my job back and write longer letters oftener very soon. All my love, Oscar.

O.S.: You better put a businesslike label on your letter to me. Maybe in big letters "SUNSHINE HOMES DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION," on account of you are my sunshine and one of these days you will be my home developer.

A Crushing Load

'Progress Sharing' Explained

By Victor Riesel

There is magic, for many folks in the phrase "profit sharing." It conjures up big money swiftly thrown into the family pocketbook. But many of the country's leaders, including national labor chiefs whom I've just interviewed — have been publicly or privately critical of the profit sharing pact made by the United Auto Workers and the American Motors Corp.

Victor Riesel

The man who created this formula, which he calls "progress sharing," is AMC's vice president, Ed Cushman. The agreement with Walter Reuther catapulted Cushman into international fame. He's an old friend.

I asked him why he led his company into the first such contract in the industry. I wondered what his reply was to those who charge he surrendered to Reuther.

Ed is a voluble and expressive fellow.

Here, in an exclusive interview by phone from Detroit, is his answer in his own words.

"LATE IN 1954, the new American Motors management under George Romney decided that the success of the company could best be advanced by the development of two concepts—the compact car and progress sharing," Ed Cushman asserted.

"The formal application of the progress sharing principle this year directly to employe compensation is a further extension of these basic approaches. The success generated by these concepts has in turn enlarged our opportunity to put them to work.

"There was originality in the Rambler compact car concept, and the public responded so strongly to it that a dramatic revolution took place in the automobile industry. But we lay no claim to originality in progress sharing. We feel that it is an American fundamental and that American economic growth has been based on the principle of progress sharing.

"Our conviction is that the fruits of economic progress must be shared equitably among all those who contribute to that progress—stockholders, customers, employes, suppliers, dealers.

"The success of an individual company, we feel, usually reflects the degree to which it enlists and rewards all participants.

"Our proposal to institute a formalized employe progress sharing plan was made as we opened our union contract negotiations this year because we felt that tying the employe's financial interest directly to the company's profits as the prime indicator of the success of the total effort is morally and economically sound, and would stimulate further progress for our company.

"The timing also was favorable, because American Motors had a proven record of profitable operation entering the negotiations that it did not enjoy during contract talks in previous years."

MR. CUSHMAN then added, "Wage and benefit payments, in our opinion, should be related importantly to individual company success, just as labor contracts should be related to individual company specifics rather than to generalities based on the economic facts of other companies.

"Thus our plan was also designed to break away from the pattern-plus settlements imposed upon us by the union in past years. These not only involved the wage and benefit levels of the Big Three automobile companies, but also tacked on the added penalties of cumbersome seniority provisions, extra paid relief time, and work standards that impeded the most effective utilization of manpower.

"The plan establishes the same basic principle for sharing company results among all employes, least skilled worker.

"Since it is contingent on results, it makes possible more liberal employe benefits in years of greater success than is practical on a fixed cost basis, while enabling equal increases in benefits to stockholders and customers.

"Except for the infrequent genuine product innovation, the greatest potential area of competitive advantage lies in workmanship—in the human beings who make up a company. The direct identification of the employe with duce mutual benefits in many areas.

"DISCUSSIONS of automation and advanced mass production techniques have overshadowed realistic consideration of the contribution of the individual worker.

"There still is no substitute for the good worker who has a real equity in what he produces, not to speak of the human values involved. We think our employes will draw a greater sense of accomplishment out of their jobs under our sharing plan, with psychological as well as financial rewards.

"Heightened personal interest and concern should encourage increase cost consciousness per man and a further increase in the superior quality of our product, and this in turn should provide us with a significant competitive edge.

"The automobile companies all have comparable resources to draw upon. None has a corner on engineering or design skill, selling ingenuity, the latest machine tools, the best materials.

"The program strengthens management in a number of ways. Since it was initiated freely by management, it indicates clear recognition of the common interest in the success of the enterprise shared by management and employes and minimizes the grounds for antagonism has been too characteristic of employe-employer relations.

"And we are delighted that our agreement has given us the opportunity to clarify our management rights and define them against improper union encroachment.

"OUR AGREEMENT provides that the management has the sole right to determine the products to be made, the location and methods of production, all methods of selling products, including pricing, and to make all financial decisions, insure the right to maintain the company's books in confidence.

"Not only do the management rights provisions recognize these as unilateral management rights, but the union agrees not even to request the company to bargain about them!"

The AMC vice president then concluded. "Tying the employes' financial interest directly to the success of the group effort of all associated with the enterprise seems to us essential if competition is to be the effective force it must be in a free society.

"The progress - sharing approach makes this interest clear."

Dear Nephew: I am taking a poll on the fears of the day. I am not in a position to report my findings, because I haven't had time to drive out Oak Hill Rd. to pick up the opinions of the Semphills, who are my favorites. Old Lady Semphill once was polled by the Literary Digest.

Fortunately, though, I am ready to tell you I am finding no one who is afraid about Berlin, and this will surprise you more than it surprised me, because I never was afraid about Berlin either. All things considered, I think Berlin has been exaggerated as a trembling point. As far as I am concerned, personally, I think we had a hole in our head when we let ourselves get trapped there in the first place.

Another thing people are not afraid of is being atomized in a nuclear explosion. It has been a puzzle to our public officials about this attitude, but it is no puzzle to me.

People are not afraid of being atomized; that is, destroyed utterly. If it happened to everybody at the same time it would be like the end of the earth, and there is no sense in being afraid of that.

What people dread is not being destroyed utterly. They dread being crippled. They dread the possibility they might live in holes and caves, not knowing where their loved ones are. They dread the prospect of pillaging, looting and killing in the wake of atomization.

Among the elderly — and aside from the grisly prospect of atomic destruction — the fear that lays the coldest hands on the human heart is lingering illness, with mental and physical impairment. They dread the possibility of becoming a burden to themselves and others.

As for some of the fears that are supposed to be big, I can find no evidence of their existence. No one is afraid of urban sprawl.

Inflation, which is supposed to make our flesh creep, has been a bogeyman so long we are getting fond of it. The prospect of getting more and more dollars that are cheaper and cheaper isn't dreadful because for most of us that's the only way we'll get our hands on more money.

No one I've polled has been afraid of Communist spooks, but I hasten to point out that this is because these are people I know and in a settled community like Cotton Corners there's no spookery.

We all trust each other. Except for some gypsies that pass through occasionally, we don't keep our eye on anybody. We don't lock our doors and there are no No Trespassing signs unless it's hunting season and the half-disciplined slickers are due to arrive with their wire-cutters and half-trained dogs.

I suppose we are blessed in our state of innocence, and I shudder to think how awful it must be to live someplace where you suspect your next-door neighbor is a subversive influence, or worse yet to live someplace where your neighbor suspects you were a subversive influence.

I do not claim this is a representative community. It is anything but that. It is an ideal community, one of those places where the American dream has been fulfilled by people who understood it, rather than frustrated by people who never took it seriously.

Acid Test For U.N.

By David Lawrence

Military Intervention Seen Inappropriate

Internationalism — which seeks at times to impose peace through a league or association of sovereign states — is face to face today with one of its greatest tests. The League of Nations failed in this very task. Will the United Nations now fall down, too?

David Lawrence

Theoretically a league of equals could be construed to mean that each nation is prepared to forego its sovereignty to a certain extent and to bow to the will of the majority in adjusting its external relations.

Whether a league seeks to accomplish this by moral force—which is, of course, more desirable—or by military force as a last resort, the biggest single requirement is that both sides in a dispute shall have absolute confidence in the integrity of the international organization itself that assumes the role of policeman.

Today the United Nations has lost the confidence of many nations which are members of it.

The late Dag Hammarskjold tried an experiment—to use the office of secretary-general of the U.N. as a kind of benevolent policeman. In Korea and in the Middle East and later in Africa the use of military force was authorized by the United Nations itself.

Because of the political entanglements of various members of the U.N., not one of these efforts could accomplish any more than a cease fire or an armistice.

The Korean problem, for instance, is still unsolved. The Middle Eastern situation is in a sort of stalemate, without a solution, and the mess in the Congo is still characterized by sporadic fighting.

The original concept of the League of Nations—which was reiterated in the words of the U.N. Charter—assumed that an internal clash might produce external complications, but there was no right to interfere in internal situations.

UNFORTUNATELY, today the sad truth is that the Soviet government is engaged in a worldwide effort to infiltrate inside other countries and take over government after government for the purpose of winning allies for the cause of international communism.

This motive is couched in high-sounding phrases about socialism and people's rights, but, in reality, it is the same old story of despotism and lust for the riches of weaker states.

History is replete with examples of this same aggression, which sooner or later has plunged the major powers into war.

What has happened since the United Nations was founded in 1945 constitutes a noble effort to organize a set of law-abiding nations who would have respect for the opinion of mankind but an ogre has appeared in Moscow who overnight brushes aside, for instance, his repeated pledges that he would not resume nuclear tests.

He now laughs at the discomfiture of a world which he is sure is helpless to punish him for his misdemeanors.

There is nothing wrong in general with the ideals that gave prestige for a while to the League of Nations and later to the United Nations. But the mistake made in the last few years has been the belief that Moscow could be dealt with as an equal—as a law-abiding partner of a great alliance of nations. When such a deviation occurs, the United Nations cannot get anywhere by the use of military force.

Everybody knows that the warring factions in the Congo couldn't possibly engage in anything except desultory fighting in the jungle—which wouldn't trouble the rest of the world too much—were it not for the help given from the outside.

THE UNITED NATIONS has the machinery to expose such interference, but has not done so. World opinion has not been informed of the true culprits in the Congo.

Above all, the United Nations has not had the leadership it ought to have in the exercise of moral force. The U.N. didn't pursue its case against the Soviets in Hungary. It has acted as if it were afraid to show up Communist misdeeds.

Indeed, there was and is a case for expulsion of the present Soviet government from the U.N.—it doesn't even pay its share of the expenses—and for an appeal to the people of the Soviet Union to establish a free government that can be a true partner of the other free nations in the U.N.

Instead, today the U.N. has as many African and Asian nations that are not yet capable of governing themselves, and is talking, oddly enough, of admitting Red China, which committeed acts of aggression against the Korean Republic and actually fought against U.N. forces, inflicting tens of thousands of casualties.

The theory that every government which is in control of a certain land area deserves admission to the U.N. is one of the biggest fallacies of our times.

The U.N. has lost prestige because so many sincere but misguided persons high up in the public life of this country and of other countries, like India, actually want to see Red China admitted to the U.N.

THE VERY PROPOSAL in the U.N. General Assembly to consider such a move reveals the lack of morals that motivates so many members of the organization.

The time has come to abandon this kind of a United Nations and to build another dedicated to morality. Sovereignty should be respected, and military force should be used for intervention in a troublous area only when the lives and properties of foreign citizens are endangered. It's an old rule but a sound one. Once basic principles are abandoned, chaos follows. That's what has happened to the U.N.

Taft Assails Gov. DiSalle

vorable climate for business growth and new investment in Ohio. All of these were the work of the governor's rubber stamp legislature of two years ago.

"As to natural resources, mental health and education, it should be noted that the governor apparently was satisfied with the programs set up two years ago, and yet the sizeable increases in appropriations for each of these programs approved by our Republican legislature leaves them, he believes, woefully deficient.

"Apparently the governor was satisfied with the lesser appropriations from his own party two years ago. He didn't criticize or ask for more. Was the election of a Republican legislature the reason for his change of heart?"

Taft said the philosophy of "tax and tax, spend and spend" came to Ohio in 1959 when the Democrats had majorities in both houses of the 103rd General Assembly.

He said tax increases were enacted at that time which added a load of $377 million on the taxpayers before July 1 of this year.

Increases in personnel, Taft said, were authorized in almost every department of the state. "The increases have now added over 7,000 people, most of them Democrats, to the state payroll," he asserted.

Taft said in conclusion that Democrats took every step possible to ensure that all available funds would be expended by the end of the biennium to prove that the added taxes were needed.

Atty. Henry Reese, Republican nominee for Salem mayor, was toastmaster at the rally.

E. U. Whitacre, president of the Salem Men's Republican Club and County GOP chairman, announced that efforts are being made to organize a Young Republican's Club in Salem. He said members of the state organization will be asked to come here and help set up the club.

Some of the guests introduced by Reese were Judge Joel H. Sharp of Salem, Judge Raymond Buzzard and County Recorder Richard Brian of East Liverpool, Mayor Henry Leishman of Salineville, Mayor William Shoub of Wellsville and State Rep. Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon and Rep. J. Warren Bettis of Salineville.

Also introduced were Mrs. Mary Taylor, president of the Salem Women's Republican club; Mrs. Letha Astry of Salem, central committeewoman; Miss Gladys Debolt, chairman of the Columbiana County Women's Republican Club, and Robert Bell, central committeeman.

5 Cars Damaged In City Collisions

Five autos were damaged in a series of three minor traffic mishaps Thursday afternoon and night, police reported. No one was injured.

A mishap on W. 8th St. at Oak Ln. at 4:12 damaged a 1957 two-door sedan operated by Maurice Livelsi, 20, of 1015 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, and a 1955 sedan driven by Samuel Thomas Jr. of Homestead, Fla., officers said.

Cars driven by Archie C. Pinkerton, 58, of Box 121 and Clarence L. Bishop, 18, of Hookstown, were damaged in a collision at 6:21 at E. 6th St. and Crook Alley, officers said. Pinkerton said he was halted in a line of traffic when Bishop's car hit his auto from the rear.

A mishap at 6:50 at Walnut St. and Potters Alley involved a 1953 two-door sedan driven by James W. Newman, 17, of 912 Avondale St. and a 1950 two-door sedan driven by Arthur Cartaccio, 1785 Pennsylvania Ave., officers said.

Newman said he was southbound on Walnut St., following Cartaccio, when the East End man suddenly made a right turn.

$100 Of Hay Lost In Fire

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed 120 bales of stacked hay at the Floyd Cox farm on Campground Rd. Thursday night at 9:30.

Liverpool Township West volunteer firemen doused the flaming haystack with 3,000 gallons of water and were called back this morning when the hay reignited.

The department sent three trucks and 18 men to the fire and firemen remained on the scene two hours.

Located in a corner of a field, the fire burned unnoticed for a time and had a good start by the time the alarm was received, Homer Cronin, assistant chief, reported.

Cox, a local contractor, estimated the loss at $100.

There was no other damage, although the fire occurred beneath electric wires.

Firemen were to investigate today in searching for the cause. Cronin said the Glenmoor Civil Defense unit remained on standby duty at the LaCroft station while firemen fought the blaze.

grams. Completion date has been set in 1963.

The commission said that if the lot were sold for $10,000, the field at the park, even if only to be used a short time, would have to be relocated at an estimated cost of $6,000. "The $4,000 that would be left would be of small help to us in our overall plans for the park."

"Some factions say a post office would beautify the park entrance and that this is a most suitable location, and we certainly agree.

"The commission would like the post office to be erected in this area if the commission could arrange to have it built and in turn, lease it to the federal government."

"But this is not the case. The government would take an option on the site, then would accept bids for the construction-leasing arrangement. We would most likely be underbid, because we would be trying to get the best possible price for the benefit of the park, and we are not shrewd in matters of real estate. The ground would then belong to an individual or a group, and would no longer belong to the people of Chester.

"We feel we must recognize the wishes of all those people and organizations who have helped with the park with their manual, financial and moral support."

The statement was signed by Harold Dickey, chairman, Lawrence Cline, John Pinney, John Burnquist and Cliff Comm.

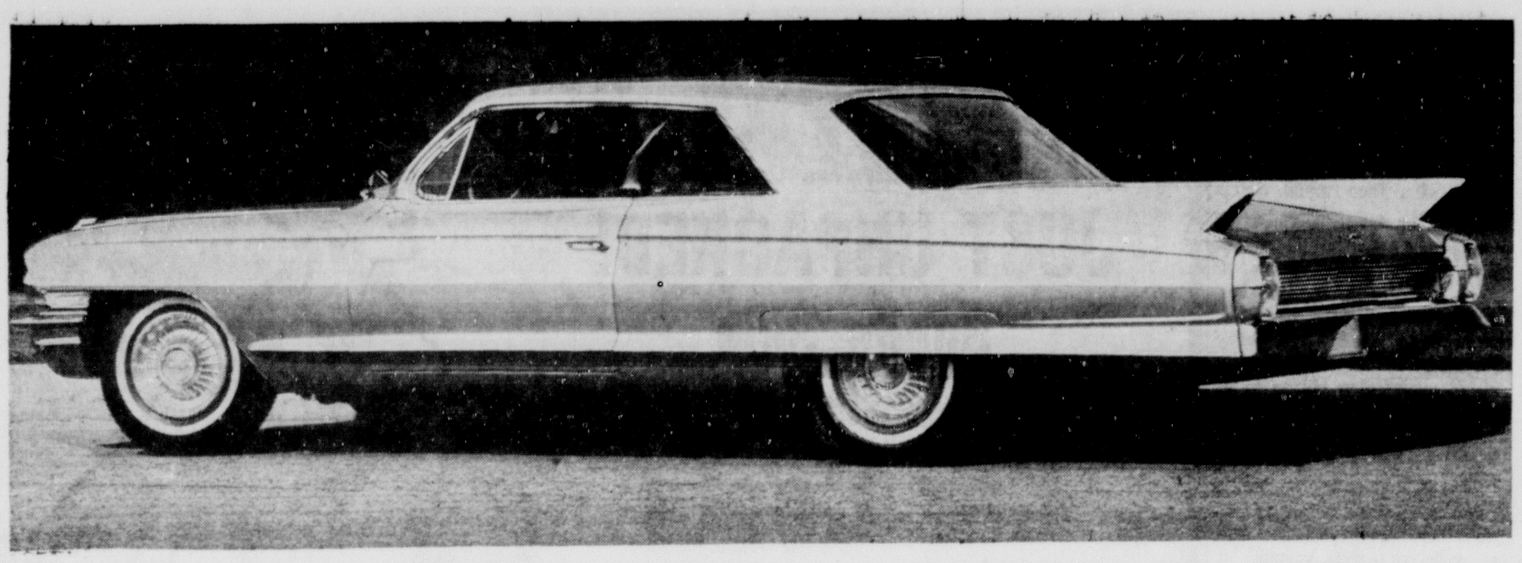
New Line Of Cars Helps Mark Cadillac's 60th Year



Beginning its 60th year in the automobile industry, Cadillac presents for 1962 the most complete and competitive line of new models in the division's history, according to Harold G. Warner, Cadillac general manager and vice president of General Motors.

The new Cadillac is now on display at Mike Turk, Inc., 415 E. 6th St. The coupe above reveals the new rear quarter styling.

"A dramatically new silhouette, outstanding engineering achievements and important safety features, new to any American motorcar, are combined in our anniversary automobile," Warner said.

"As the records show, safety always is of prime concern to Cadillac each year. This year is no exception. In fact, in 1962 there is even more emphasis on safety with a new dual braking system and significant lighting developments, both in the front and rear of the automobile.

In this anniversary year, Cadillac is offering 12 models, the same as last year. Five of the 12 will feature a classic new roof design, giving an entirely new silhouette to the car and changing the over-all styling personality.

This sleek and low roof design which reflects the leadership of last year's Fleetwood Sixty Special Sedan appears on the four-window Sedan de Ville, the Coupe de Ville, Sixty - Two Coupe, Town Sedan and Park Avenue Sedan.

The wheelbase is unchanged—129.5 inches on all models except the Series Seventy - Five Sedan and Limousine at 149.8 inches.

Over-all length remains at 222 inches on eight models, while the Series Seventy-Five Sedan and Limousine again are 242.3 inches in length. The new Park Avenue Sedan joins the Town Sedan at 215 inches. Over-all width also is unchanged.

Apportionment Board Gives Legislative Setup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Secretary of State Ted W. Brown was probably humming that song, "There'll Be Some Changes Made," as the state apportionment board met Thursday to prescribe the number of Ohio legislative seats each county will have in the next decade.

Ohio's constitution requires the board to apportion State Senate and House seats for the next decade on the basis of the 1960 federal census.

The board is composed of Brown, fellow Republican James A. Rhodes, the state auditor, and Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

Brown said most of the membership changes in the legislature offered no apparent problems under the rigid rules prescribed for apportionment.

Senatorial District Will Revert To One

The 20th-22nd State Senatorial District, which includes Columbiana County, will revert to one seat under the apportionment board's action.

Two now represent the district — Sen. Arthur Blake of Martins Ferry and Sen. Edmund Sargus of St. Clairsville —as a result of periodic reapportionment in 1959. Only one served in the previous decade. The district includes Jefferson, Harrison and Belmont Counties.

Iowa's total acreage is almost 95 per cent in farms.

WEIGH the COST AGAINST the CURE

Today's "miracle drugs" cure so fast . . . lessen so sharply the cost of convalescence and medical attention . . . that the balance is heavily in your favor whatever the price of your prescribed medicines. When you weigh the cost against the cure, you know they're the world's biggest bargains.

Truck Rams Newell Pole In Avoiding Car

A driver who signaled for a right turn, then turned left, and a following tractor-trailer rig added up to a traffic crash in Newell Thursday.

Arthur Forsythe, 26, of Ellwood City told Hancock County sheriff's deputies the driver he was following signaled a turn with the right light, then suddenly turned left.

In attempting to avoid a collision, Forsythe pulled his rig to the left and sheared off a utility pole at 6th and Washington Sts. The driver he was following failed to stop.

Electrical lines strung on the pole kept it from falling to the street, deputies said. They estimated $125 damage to the rig, owned by David E. Leviere of Portersville. It was loaded with cement.

Lt. Winters

ant complained to his wife that he had a pain in his left arm and chest. They decided he should go to City Hospital for examination, so Mrs. Winters drove her husband downtown from their home at 2072 Lisbon St.

Lt. Winters was admitted at 6:40 and died 40 minutes later. He walked into the hospital and was placed in a wheelchair and taken to the third floor. He died as he was being wheeled to his room.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and Safety-Service Director Robert Owen joined in an expression of shock at the veteran officer's sudden passing and in sympathy to his family

"In his death, East Liverpool has lost a fine officer and a good citizen," the mayor said.

Chief Americo Radeschi also expressed shock at the lieutenant's death and added: "The whole department has been shocked almost beyond words by his death. His passing is a great loss to our department because Lt. Winters was a fine officer and an example to the men in his charge."

Lt. Winters was one of the two police department representatives on the Police Pension Board. He was elected to a new two-year term last week. He was the board's secretary.

He also had been active in the Elks Lodge, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 66, American Legion Post 4, the Columbiana County Young Republican Club and the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge. He was a former member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He also was a member of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club.

Lt. Winters was born in East Liverpool April 21, 1917, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Micheal A. Winters. He was graduated from East Liverpool High School in 1931.

From 1937 to 1940, he was employed as a wareboy at the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. and from 1940 to 1943 he was employed in the city engineer's office as a junior engineer.

He served in the Navy Seabees from May 11, 1943, to Nov. 11, 1945. On July 12, 1952, he was married to the former Betty Jean Little.

In addition to his widow, he leaves two daughters, Cynthia Lynn Winters and Jill Ann Winters; six brothers, Frank Winters of Gallipolis, Samuel Winters of San Francisco and Joseph Winters, Ralph Winters, Charles Winters and Raymond Winters, all of East Liverpool, and six sisters, Mrs. Mary Metts of Wellsville, Mrs. Theresa Baiguini of Cortland, N. Y., Mrs. John Paul of Washington, Mrs. Larry Bruno of Monaca and Mrs. Richard Smith and Miss Ann Winters, both of East Liverpool.

Services will be held Monday at 10 a. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday night and Sunday.

The family requested that material tributes be in the form of contributions to the Retarded Children's Fund if the donor desires.

City Hall entrances will continue draped in black and white crepe for 30 days' mourning in the passing of Lt. Winters, Mayor Goodballet said.

It's the second death to strike the city's official family in less than a month. Former Safety-Service Director Lee Copnehaver died Aug. 23 and the municipal building's doorways have been draped with crepe. The 30 days' mourning period for Mr. Copenhaver's memory is scheduled to end Saturday.

even though Community Fund includes only a token gift to the USO, our men and women of the Armed Forces, whether from Chester or East Liverpool, place high value on benefits received."

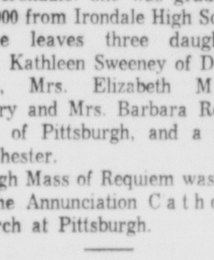
Some light on a dark subject



Ever wonder why some pills come in clear, transparent bottles, while others hide behind brown or dark-green glass? It's no accident, but by design. Why . . . ? Simple daylight can reduce the potency of some medications. Consider how sunshine fades a rayon print, for instance. Thus, where needed, we use dark bottles, not to hide anything, but to preserve the medical effectiveness of the drug your physician prescribed for you. Away-From-Home Injury

Medical Mirror
WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT

- Smallpox
- Smoking and Taste

Q. How did the disease smallpox get its name?

A. Smallpox was originally called "variola," a Latin name applied by the Bishop of Avranches. The term "smallpox" did not come into use until after the appearance of syphilis in Europe at the close of the fifteenth century. At that time, in order to avoid confusion between the rash of syphilis or "great pox," variola was designated as the "small pox."

Q. Does smoking affect the ability to taste certain foods?

A. Cigarette smoking has no effect on the ability to taste sweet, sour, or salt but smoking decreases the ability to taste bitterness.

Q. If a person is seriously injured while in a strange city, can he be taken to any hospital for treatment?

A. In most states it is doubtful whether an emergency patient has the legal right to demand hospital treatment. However, no one who needs emergency care is going to be left at the door while hospital authorities call a lawyer to determine the legal rights of the injured person. Some states have definite laws about such matters. For example, Illinois requires any hospital "where surgical operations are performed" to give emergency medical treatment or first aid to anyone who is seriously injured. In New York, "any public hospital" is under similar legal obligations.

Wanted To Make 'Big Splash'

Salesman Admits Theft Of $670,000 Paintings

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Palm Springs real estate salesman who police say admitted he took paintings valued at $670,000 "so I could draw attention to myself and make a big splash," succeeded.

Edward Henry Ashdown, 29, of Costa Mesa, Calif., led police Thursday night to a bus depot and rented garage where officers found the four art works stolen Sept. 10 from the Bel-Air mansion of industrialist David Bright.

Ashdown, arrested late Wednesday, first denied taking the two Picassos, a Modigliani and an Afro. But when the district attorney's office issued a complaint charging him with suspicion of robbery and grand theft, police said he admitted the crime.

Police traced Ashdown through fingerprints found in Bright's home.

Ashdown said he had no intention of selling the paintings.

In the Hollywood bus depot police found Modigliani's "The Chocolitier" rolled up in a suitcase stored in a luggage rack.

Picasso's "The Portrait of Sebastian" and "Looking Through The Window," and an Afro abstract were rolled together in a plastic garment bag and hung in the closet of a West Los Angeles garage Ashdown said he rented as a storage spot.

Dr. Richard Brown of the Los Angeles County Art Museum, who verified the authenticity of the paintings, said the "Portrait of Sebastian" had flaked somewhat because it had been rolled too tightly.

Ashdown told police he "cased" the Bright mansion when he visited as the guest of Bright's mother-in-law, Lottie Newmire.

A gunman knocked at the Bright door the night of the robbery and pulled a pistol from a bouquet of gladioli when the maid answered. She was forced into a closet by the thief before he made off with the paintings.

Though the paintings were insured for $246,165, a spokesman for Bright set their market value at $670,000.

School Buses Given Safety Check

Thirteen public school buses, 10 owned by Charles R. Snyder and three by the Board of Education, received their annual safety inspection Thursday by the Lisbon barracks of the Highway Patrol.

Left to right are Patrolman N. K. Myers, Patrolman E. D. Wain and Snyder. Officers, clad in coveralls, inspected under the hoods and road tested each vehicle for steering, transmission, wipers, emergency brakes and seats. They also checked exhaust system, tires, all lights, emergency doors and the gas-proof flooring which prevents fumes from entering.

Stickers were placed on the vehicle windshields for passing the inspection. Both officers began Sept. 5 inspecting school buses in Columbiana County which has about 130 buses this year.

Buses which serve St. Aloysius Parochial School will be inspected Monday, along with Wellsville and Salem Parochial equipment.

The inspection yesterday was held at the Snyder Bus Co. garage in West End.

Wellsville's Trial Meters Have Permanent Look

By HARRY STEWART

Installed on a "trial basis" almost a year ago, Wellsville's parking meters appear to be so effective in traffic control that they apparently will become "permanent fixtures."

The contract for purchase of the city's first meters was let by the Board of Control a year ago Thursday to Magee-Hale Park-O-Meter Co. of Oklahoma City, low bidder.

The meters apparently are here to stay as they have been mentioned several times in past months during Council sessions without objections.

Solicitor William Bush said no action is needed to allow the meters to remain. "As long as Council wants them, they will stay," he said.

Bush explained the trial basis clause was included in the legislation and contract with the Park-O-Meter firm to allow the city to terminate the contract if it so desired.

The installation was started Nov. 16 and completed Nov. 18. The enforcement of the meters, marking the beginning of the trial period, started Nov. 21 and the first collection was made a week later.

At the time, a great deal of controversy arose over the meters. After the proposal to try meters finally got through City Council, opponents attempted to force a referendum. This fell through when they failed to obtain sufficient signatures for a ballot place.

Controversy continued when the contract was let. The Board of Control—Mayor William J. Shoub and Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson — presented the bids received from three firms to Council. Three favored one firm while three others suggested the matter be left entirely up to the board.

The hue and cry once heard against the meters has died. Many who first opposed the installation, now favor meters. They claim more parking space is available in the business district.

Both Mayor Shoub and Robinson still favor the meters and say they cannot see any reason for removing them.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, also favors the meters and when the subject was brought to the attention of Council this week, no objections were voiced by any member. Police Chief John Hephner also favors keeping them although he said they have created problems for his department.

Robinson said "I personally can't see any advantage to taking them out." He said the meters have helped speed the flow of traffic along Main St. With loading and unloading zones, the city no longer has the problem of double parking.

Robinson said the 24 feet allotted each parking spot makes it easier for motorists to park and there is no delay of traffic as a driver backs into a space.

Meters also give the city an additional income, he pointed out. Shoub said he believes the meters "very definitely should stay." He said they were installed primarily as a traffic control measure, with revenue secondary.

The mayor also pointed out the meters have halted "all - day" parker in the business district. Before they were installed, many persons would park their cars in the business section while they were at work.

"Any city that wants to be modern has them," the mayor said. He also pointed out the money collected already has helped the street maintenance fund, pointing out $1,500 was transferred to the street repair fund when it was depleted in the spring.

Mrs. Rahter commented she "definitely feels" the meters have helped the parking problem and provided the city a good income.

Councilman Donald Miller, finance chairman, has presented a monthly report on the meter collection since they were installed.

Tuesday night, he said the collection for nine months and 10 days totals $9,400. Since November 1960 through the last of August, a total of $2,038.50 has been collected in fines from meter violations. This is almost $200 a month in fines.

On the average, about $225 a week is collected. Half of this is paid to the meter company towards the purchase price. The payments are on a four-week basis. The other half goes into a special fund for street improvements and repairs.

Robinson said the meters have held up well. Of the manual type, the city has 225. They should be paid for in another year.

Chief Hephner said the extra work involved in the program, such as bookkeeping and patroling the meters, fell on the department. He said police are carrying the load. "The department has not been given any extra men or money to do the job," the chief said.

But, he still believes the meters should remain, pointing out they have eliminated traffic problems and have halted double parking on Main St.

Hephner said each ticket has to be listed individually. The department also is responsible for going out after "stragglers" who do not come in and pay their fines. He said police are behind in this work.

The business district is checked by a regular patrolman who also helps on other calls. Hephner said he has received numerous favorable comments from the merchants about the use of a patrolman. He said they like the idea of an officer being close by on the street in case he is needed. "Some can tell you every time the officer does not pass their store at the regular time," he pointed out.

The fine, if you get a ticket, is 50 cents if it is dropped in one of the collection boxes located along the street within 24 hours. If you wait until the next day, the ticket costs you $1.

The charge is $2 and costs of $8.70 if a warrant is issued to bring in a violator who has failed to appear voluntarily.

Money in the meters is collected by the City Hall janitor.

Garner's College Gifts Now Total $1 Million

UVALDE, Tex. (AP)— Former Vice President John N. Garner has made a second gift to Uvalde's Southwest Texas Junior College, this one for $400,000.

Three weeks ago Garner gave the school $600,000.

In making the gift Wednesday Garner said, "Everything I have was obtained from this area and I decided to give it back where it came from."

Garner, who will be 93 Nov. 22, had represented this district in Congress before becoming vice president during the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Southwest Texas Junior College has an enrollment of 300 full time and 200 part-time students.

Driver Given Fine And Jail

A $200 fine and three-day jail term were imposed Thursday afternoon in Municipal Court on Paul Victor Dawson, 1948 Dresden Ave. Ext., charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol as the aftermath of a traffic crash Aug. 9 in California Hollow.

Dawson appeared for sentencing before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, who took testimony yesterday morning from State Highway Patrolman N. K. Myers, the arresting officer. Judge Chertoff also suspended Dawson's driver's license for six months.

Dawson originally pleaded not guilty and requested a jury trial, but later switched his plea to "no contest." Thirty prospective jurors were excused Wednesday.

The patrol alleged that Dawson's car struck a big earth hauler just north of the city limits at a freeway construction crossing. Dawson's wife was injured severely and his car was demolished.

Atty. George A. Aronson entered a plea in mitigation yesterday afternoon before his client was sentenced.

He said Dawson's finances "are nil" because he is unemployed and his wife incurred heavy hospital expenses after the crash. In addition, he has been unable to replace his demolished car, the attorney added.

He cited Dawson's World War II service in the infantry from 1941 to 1945 and said the case yesterday was his client's first brush with the law.

The judge conceded that Dawson had "an exemplary war record" and that the traffic mishap was "a harrowing experience," but he said Dawson must learn not to drive and drink.

City Mother Opens Drive To Buy TV For Ailing Child

Touched by the plight of a 14-year-old East End girl who faces six months in a cast after two operations, a Manor Ln. mother opened her own "Dollars for Norma" fund - raising campaign Thursday night with hope that it will grow into a citywide project.

Feeling that she "just had to do something for the little girl," Mrs. Francis Wotring collected $6 from neighbors and was to continue solicitations today in the Manor Ln. area.

She hopes the $6 will grow until the fund is large enough to purchase a television set for Norma Ice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ice, 843 Valley Ave.

The youngster will enter Youngstown South Side Hospital Sept. 30 for two operations to correct spinal curvature, then lie immobile for six to nine months in a cast extending from her shoulders to her hips.

Norma worked the entire summer making potholders to raise money to buy a TV set to keep her company in the long hours she will spend in a cast recuperating from the operations.

But she cleared only about $25—far short of the cost of a TV set. Mounting hospital bills place the renting of a video set out of the question.

Mrs. Wotring said: "I don't know the little girl or her family, but I hope others in the city will take the same attitude and respond with contributions to buy her the television set."

Mrs. Wotring began the campaign after reading a story of Norma's plight in Thursday night's Review.

Mrs. Wotring, mother of two children, said "nobody turned me down when I asked for contributions at a dozen homes."

"I hope others in the city will make contributions, along with some of the service clubs," Mrs. Wotring said.

She commented she would gladly receive any donations which residents wish to send by mail, and will forward them on to the family for the television project.

About 9 per cent of the population is lefthanded.

what's new at Olsen's?
"Fashion Frontier"

"Ollie Olsen"

We have a new frontier in fashion. The trend has been established. At first glance, the basic look for for fall is surprising in its simplicity. At second glance, we find some very interesting facts. There isn't a straight line any where — easy, subtle, meandering contours fit close to the body . . . that move with the body . . . never too clinging . . . but infinitely flattering — is a trend that is here to stay. Dresses this fall have been treated with more "tricks" and artistry than ever before, presenting to the world — a world now looking to us for fashion first . . . an American tradition . . . youth and simplicity.

Olsen's starts the fall "gold rush" of '61 . . . The golden look is the look of the year. Why not stop in at Olsen's jewelry department and see the "Treasures you can afford" in a wonderful jewelry collection for the new golden year of fashion. We have the golden choice of elegance—long on fashion no matter what the length . . . chain bibs, princess length, opera length . . . all with bracelets and earrings to match. You need not limit yourself to gold. We saw the most beautiful baroque pearl and crystal sets and the popular irredescent beads in one, two, and three strands, so rich looking in all the new autumn colors. With all the beautiful knits and wools to be worn this fall, you will want more than one of these sets. If you are budget conscious, don't worry. They are priced from $1.88 up.

S-T-R-E-T-C-H is the word today in casual wear. Yes, stretch pants that are bone lean. Imagine a pant that fits to perfection — gives the impression that it was custom tailored for you alone! Well you can buy them at Olsen's sportswear department. Everyone is talking about stretch pants. These sleek pants are patterned after a famous ski pant. You will win all the fashion points if you match them up with one of the new bulky sweaters. Be one of the first to wear these new stretch pants. They come in beautiful colors, too . . . not the ordinary dark color of other pants. See them and you will love them. If Olsen's do not have your size, they will be glad to order them for you.

Let the wind whistle, let the rain fall . . . you will be as snug as can be in one of the new raccoon collared car coats that they just unpacked at Olsen's today, sturdy tackle twill-lined with man-made sherpa. Detachable raccoon collar, wear it plain or with the collar. Perfect match mate with tapered pants or a trim fitting skirt. If you're wondering just what to wear to the football games, this is the answer. They also come in full-length with a quilted lining in sizes 7-15-16-18, priced at only $24.79.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was married for 15 years. Two years ago my husband walked out on me and his 10-year-old child. He supports us and I do not have to work.

My husband considers me the villain in the story. Am I? Now that he has achieved financial and social prominence he chooses to forget that I struggled with him in the early years. He wants a divorce so he can marry another woman and adopt her 14-year-old daughter.

I have refused to give him a divorce unless he gives me a healthy settlement and sets up a trust fund for our child. I've turned down his offer of alimony and support. I detest the thought of a "monthly handout."

There's no chance for a reconciliation so don't suggest it. The question is — do you think I am unreasonable to insist that he pay dearly for what he has done to my life?—TORONTO READER.

Dear Toronto Reader: I'm unable to give you an answer because there are too many imponderables. What you consider a "healthy settlement" he may consider highway robbery. You gave me a hint of "what he has done to your life" but I don't know what you've done to his.

The wife who is cast aside usually feels bitter and often with good reason.

Discarded women who seek to impale their husbands on a thorn of spite usually wind up the big losers.

Belated Invitation

Dear Ann: My wife's second cousin is a rather well-known social figure in this town.

This elite cousin was engaged in June and is being married in six days. The engraved invitations to the formal wedding have been out for more than a month. We know this because my wife's grandmother got one.

In this morning's mail we received a handwritten invitation to the wedding. It was scrawled on plain cream - colored stationery. Any idiot can see that is is not a regular invitation. They probably decided to invite us after some of the first-choice guests sent regrets.

My wife wants to go regardless. I say no. Should we send a gift? What would you do?—AFTER THOUGHT.

Dear After: A hand-written note six days before a formal wedding can hardly be considered an invitation. It's more like an invoice.

If I were you I'd send a modest gift and stay home.

Services Rendered

Dear Ann: Four of us play cards every Tuesday afternoon. The husband of one of the women is retired and he doesn't have much to do. He picks us all up, drives us to the game and then comes back to get us.

Lately he's been pulling something which I consider pretty sneaky. He has learned that the hostess serves coffee and dessert about midway in the game, so he's been coming back early to get in on the refreshments.

This irritates me because I always go to a lot of trouble to bake individual little pies or tarts and I make just enough for us girls. When he shows up I feel that I must offer him mine. He never refuses. What's the answer?—MINNIE.

Dear Minnie: The answer is don't be so nit-pickin' petty. Make an extra whatchamacallit for your free chauffeur and offer it to him with a smile.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Potter fans shouldn't forget the note sent here by Niles football coach Tony Mason reminding us that the 1961 East Liverpool grid squad is young and inexperienced and we must be patient. They have a long way to go.

Looking over the starting lineup given to us by Bob Hedmond, who didn't inherit much in the way of size, experience, etc., in his first year at the helm, we find five seniors. But out of this group only two played any varsity football to speak of last season.

Allen Douglas, alternated at halfback in 1960, and Jim Ferello was a regular center and guard. Outside of Tom Kraft, who was the only sophomore to win a letter last season, the others are green.

East Liverpool's offense at Niles was poor, and we have never seen a Potter team go without a first down.

The Potters are lacking in experience at quarterback. Vince McKinnon is a senior, and it is not his fault that he didn't get vital experience last year. He was used strictly as a defensive safety man and played behind two senior quarterbacks, Ken Cunningham, an all-stater, and Craig O'Neil, a very capable replacement.

The brightest young prospect for the quarterback post is sophomore Chuck Baker up from Westgate, but he has a lot to learn.

Senior Jerry Bell, from that fine football family, has more speed than any of the other backs and must be relied on as the threat in the Potter backfield.

Tom Kraft is probably the hardest running back in the Potter camp. He usually can be depended on to give an all-out performance.

At the right halfback post, Hedmond has selected Bill Durbin or Douglas to start. Durbin showed up well in flashes at Niles on several kickoff and punt returns. Douglas has the experience at the spot and could be the most consistent of the backs.

Up front, the Potters will suffer all season long by spotting weight to their opponents, it won't be as bad tonight as it was against Niles, but Central will still show an edge of about 20 pounds.

MACKALL POTTS MAYHEW

Mayhew To Start For Geneva . . .

WHEN GENEVA College opens its 1961 football season Saturday night at Beaver Falls against Waynesburg, Chester's Bill Mayhew will be in the starting backfield for the Geneva eleven.

The 160-pound terror of the gridiron is only a sophomore and would have cracked the starting lineup as a freshman, but he played behind Little All-American candidate Paul Pupi from Monaca.

Coach By Morgan used Mayhew last season in a game against Southern Connecticut when Pupi was injured and the Chester lad turned in an outstanding performance. He saw a lot more action after the Connecticut game, then was moved to the other halfback spot this season.

Mackall Is Fastest Wildcat . . .

BOB MACKALL, East Liverpool's former star quarterback, has been one of the most impressive sophomore performers in early practice at Northwestern University.

Mackall is not running first string, but he is the fastest back on the Wildcat varsity. He ran the 100-yard dash under 10 seconds in high school.

His passing is sharper also and in a recent scrimmage game he flipped a long touchdown pass. Northwestern opens its season on Sept. 30 at home against Boston College. Its first Big 10 battle is with Illinos on Oct. 7.

This 'N That In Football . . .

WE ADD our sympathy to the family of Mike Winters who died suddenly Thursday evening. The city has lost a fine police officer who went out of his way to help other people in an official capacity, but on many occasions in his own spare time. A former athlete himself, he was always a hard worker when it came to backing sports and especially the Tri-State Basketball Tournament which required a little extra effort on his part to keep the tournament alive during the past few years.

VETERAN Jim Potts will get the call as the starting quarterback for Bowling Green in its opener at Marshall University Saturday night in Huntington.

The second team all-Mid-American Conference selection from East Liverpool has sharpened his passing and ball-handling the past week to the extent that Coach Doyt Perry has decided to start the experienced signal caller.

REMEMBER Tom Yakubowski of Adena, Ohio, who was here last winter to help pay tribute to his Purdue teammate Bernie Allen? Tom has reinjured his knee and will be lost to the Boilermakers for the remainder of the season. Yakubowski is a junior.

Tom Bloom of Weirton, who also attended the Elks' "Bernie Allen Night", is slated to start at halfback for Purdue.

TIM ARCHER, the nifty ex-Potter end, played the full 60 minutes in one game and saw considerable action another contest in Findlay College's first two victories of the season.

—:—

FOOTBALL polls (you can take them for what they are worth) have already started. The Associated Press poll will come out for the first time next week, but the United Press-International ratings came a week earlier.

Here is what the top 10 looked like: Massillon was an automatic choice for the top spot. Second was Niles, with Alliance third. On down the line in order were Sandusky, Hamilton Garfield, Cincinnati Roger Bacon, Mansfield, Cincinnati Purcell, Steubenville (Big Red) and Martins Ferry.

TONIGHT'S predictions: Steubenville Central 42, East Liverpool 6; Wellsville 20, Toronto 12; Beaver 28, Midland 14; Chester 7, South Side 6; Hopedale 27, Newell 13; New Cumberland 20, Madonna 14; Springfield 32, Salineville 8; East Palestine 22, Sebring 8; Leetonia 14, Louisville 6; Lisbon 14, Minerva 12; Stanton Local 22, Wayne 8 and Salem 26, Ravenna 8.

—:—

SATURDAY'S contests: Beaver Local 26, Union Local 14; United 20, Springfield Local 12; Lowellville 34, Crestview 8, and Columbiana 14, Poland 6.

—:—

STEUBENVILLE Central's new football coach Dick Pont is a brother of John Pont, who is the head grid mentor at Miami (Ohio) University. John was one of the greatest football players in Miami's history. He is the school's top ground gainer and the first time he carried the ball as a collegian ran 94 yards for a touchdown.

The Pont brothers are from Canton originally.

LOU HOLTZ of East Liverpool, who is an assistant coach at William & Mary, will be on the sidelines Saturday when Virginia and W&M meet and may witness the end of one of the longest losing streaks in the nation.

Virginia has lost 28 games in a row, tying Kansas State's major college record for consecutive defeats while William & Mary has an eight-game streak of its own.

Hedmond Juggles Lineup For Central

4,000 Expected To See ELHS In First Home Contest Tonight

Since the Potters opened the season 13 days ago at Niles, several changes have been made in the starting lineup for tonight's encounter with powerful Steubenville Central in the 1961 home opener at Patterson Field. Kickoff time is 7:45.

A crowd of some 4,000 is expected to watch the two Ohio Valley opponents meet for the 11th time. Steubenville has a slight edge in the series with five wins to four. One game ended in a tie.

Potter coach Bob Hedmond, who earlier this week dropped three seniors for "disciplinary reasons" and is also riddled by injuries, has taken the role of master juggler in coming up with a lineup for tonight's encounter.

Sophomores and juniors dominate the starting offensive and defensive lineups.

Ed Six, a regular defensive halfback dropped from the squad, will be replaced by a tough little junior — Tom Kraft — while Scotty Musuraca or Bob Parsons, two juniors, will take over a guard post left by Clyde Griffith, who went the same route as Six.

—:—

The Potters' offense was near a dead stop at Niles in the opener. East Liverpool failed to pick up one first down and didn't get any closer than its opponent's 25-yard line.

The best of the breakaway runners in the backfield is Jerry Bell, who is the fastest of the Potter backs.

Looking over the line situation, one of two sophomores will be starting at left tackle. They are Bud Manley (205) or Dave Oliver (185), both graduates of Westgate Junior High. Another sophomore, Bruce Burbick, started at center against Niles, but it is btween him and Ron Kennedy, a junior.

AT ENDS will be Jim Richardson, 140-pound senior, while atom-size Bud McElhaney, weighing a mere 130 and a junior, will get the nod at right end.

On the right tackle post will be veteran lineman Jim Ferello, a 190-pound senior.

Musuraca, 185-pound junior, has been named for the right guard post, while Jim Wilson, a tough 140-pound junior, or Parsons will be starting at left guard.

Defensively big Jeff Hayes, who hits close to the 200-pound mark, will go in at tackle, with Manley, Ferello, Parsons, Richardson and McElhaney across the forward wall.

Durbin and Musuraca will be used at linebacker spots, with John Sparks and Kraft at halfbacks. Either McKinnon or sophomore Chuck Baker will be in at safety, Hedmond said.

THE POTTER coach saw Steubenville Central in action last week against Columbus Aquinas and when asked about tonight's game, replied:

"We will have to play topnotch football. We can't afford many mistakes against a team like Central. They capitalize on mistakes, that's what happened in the Columbus game.

"Steubenville has two of the best receivers and one of the finest passers I have seen in sometime."

Hedmond was referring to receivers Jim Gilday, who has caught three touchdown passes, and end Dan Abramowicz, the favorite target of "Slingin" Sammy Fornsaglio.

"Short or long, Fornsaglio hasn't thrown a bad pass yet this season," Hedmond added.

The Central quarterback has six touchdown tosses to his credit in two games.

Coach Dick Pont, in his first year as Central's head mentor, has made a late change, moving tackle Bob Hagerty, a 220-pound junior, to fullback. Hagerty is reported to be equipped with speed for his size. He will play both ways, holding down a tackle post on defense.

Cincy's Magic No. Now Is 4

Reds Take On Frisco, Eye First Since 1940

By TED SMITS

The Cincinnati Reds, their first National League pennant in 21 years almost within grasp, take on the San Francisco Giants tonight at Crosley Field while their fading rivals, the Los Angeles Dodgers, journey to St. Louis to do battle with the Cardinals.

The key number is four. Any combination of Cincinnati victories or Los Angeles defeats making four assures the pennant to the Redlegs for the first time since 1940.

Cincinnati has Bob Purkey (16-11) ready to send against San Francisco's Billy O'Dell (5-5). The honor of being chosen to oppose the New York Yankees in the World Series might be finalized this weekend.

Certainly the schedule favors the Reds. They play San Francisco again Saturday and then go on the road for their four last games—at Chicago Sept. 26, and at Pittsburgh Sept. 29 and 30, and Oct. 1.

The Dodgers will be on the road from now to the end of the season and have a much busier time of it. Two more games after tonight will be played at St. Louis and then the Pirates will be met at Pittsburgh Sept. 25 and 26, the Phillies at Philadelphia Sept. 27 and 28, and the Cubs at Chicago Sept. 30 and Oct. 1.

The Yankees, out scouting the Redlegs in force, are now reconciled to playing Cincinnati. They would have preferred the Dodgers. The reason, of course, is that the Coliseum in Los Angeles holds 92,000 for a baseball game and Crosley Field a bare 30,000. This makes a big difference in the players' share of the series receipts.

There were no games scheduled in the National League Thursday.

College Grid Schedule Will Open Tonight

By The Associated Press

Georgia Tech and Southern California, accorded at most the accolade "could surprise", start the weekend's college football activity tonight in that old baseball park, the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Whether Georgia Tech will feel that 60 minutes is too long depends on how far junior quarterback Stan Gann has come after a so-so sophomore season that torpedoed his big buildup.

The Trojans, uncertain in the line after losing the McKeever brothers, Mike and Marlin, and gigantic tackle Dan Ficca, have a bevy of halfbacks that present an improved running game. But their passing offense is still untested.

Elsewhere tonight, Detroit opens its season against Western Michigan, University of the Pacific plays speedy San Jose State, a winner last week against Brigham Young, Louisville meets Eastern Kentucky and Chattanooga plays Tennessee Tech.

There is a strong intersectional flavor on Saturday's card as the season begins to pick up steam. However, Iowa and Ohio State, ranked 1-2 in The Associated Press' pre-season poll won't begin until next weekend, nor will Michigan State (No. 6), another Big Ten power.

Third-ranked Alabama will see how strong its offense is against Georgia. Texas, ranked fourth and a co-favorite with Rice's Owls for the Southwest crown, are on the West Coast against weak California.

The Owls have their work cut out for them against defensive giant Louisiana State (No. 5), in a night game.

The East's top game pits seventh-ranked Penn State against Navy, which is minus its All-America Joe Bellino, and has only two starters back from its Orange Bowl team. Syracuse, (No. 10) another eastern power pits All-America back Ernie Davis against Oregon State and its great performer, Terry Baker, on the West Coast.

The day's television game is the opener of a day-night "doubleheader" in Jackson, Miss. There, Mississippi, last year's SEC titlist, plays the 1960 SWC winner, Arkansas (ABC-TV, 4:15 p. m. Eastern Daylight Time) while at night Texas Tech meets Mississippi State.

BOSTON (AP) — Paoli Rosi seeks to square accounts with Jackie Donnelly of Buffalo, N.Y., Saturday night in their nationally televised (ABC) lightweight rematch.

Boston Garden is the site of the scheduled 10-rounder.

Donnelly, 22, edged Italian-born Rosi, the veteran 26-year-old video campaigner, in a split decision July 8 in Buffalo.

Maris Fails To Hit No. 60 In Four Times At Plate

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Roger Maris, one homer shy of matching Babe Ruth's record 60-homer total of 1927, failed to get No. 60 Thursday night in four tries as the American League champion New York Yankees lost to the Baltimore Orioles 5-3.

That left Maris, who no longer can officially tie the Bambino's mark under the 154-decision limit set by Commissioner Ford Frick, with seven games in which to match or surpass the Babe on the AL's expanded 162-game program.

The Yankees, idle today, move into Boston next for a two-game set Saturday and Sunday, then return home for a pair with the Orioles and a windup three-game series with the Red Sox.

"I intend to play every game the rest of the season," insists Maris, who hit No. 59 at Baltimore Wednesday night and became the first player in major league history to come that close to Ruth's record.

He didn't get anywhere with Jack Fisher who brought his record to 10-12 with a three-hitter.

Fisher kept the Yanks—using mostly reserves — away from the plate except in the sixth when they came up with two unearned tallies as Bob Hale reached base on an error and Tony Kubek hit a two-out, pinch-hit homer.

The Orioles had snapped a 1-1 tie in the seventh with a four-run uprising against Bill Stafford (13-8).

In the only other AL game scheduled, Minnesota beat Washington 6-3 with an 11-hit attack featuring a triple by Harmon Killebrew and doubles by Bob Allison and Joe Altobelli. Jack Kralick (13-10) won it with Bennie Daniels (10-11) getting the loss.

There were no games scheduled in the National League.

Kiwanians Told Potters 'Up' For Central Tonight

The East Liverpool Potters football team is "up" for tonight's game with Steubenville Central and expects to score, Bob Hedmond, coach, told the Kiwanis Club Thursday.

Hedmond said the team's morale is high, and the players have made a good showing during practice sessions this week.

Hedmond pointed out the Steubenville team has not been scored against this season, "but we expect to make a good showing."

The head coach discussed the football program, and the offensive and defensive lineups for the game. He introduced his staff, including Nunzio Polichene, Rey Peduzzi and Jack Bair.

Merrill Hall, program chairman, commended the coaches and the team, and urged support of the Potters.

First To Conquer Swim

Argentinian Goes Nonstop Across Channel Both Ways

By JOHN FARROW

DOVER, England (AP) — Antonio Abertondo slumped into an easy chair today after becoming the first man to swim the English Channel both ways nonstop and said:

"I think the total swim must have been nearer 100 miles."

The 42-year-old Argentinian made channel history by swimming from England to France and back again in 43 hours, 5 minutes.

The 5-4 210-pound swimmer battled the cold waters and changing tides of the 22-mile stretch of the channel without complaint.

Soon after stepping ashore at Hope Point—between St. Margaret's Bay and Kingsdown on the English south coast — Abertondo broke into tears as a handful of holidaymakers and reporters sent up a cheer.

"I felt certain I could swim the channel both ways without a stop after I completed 80 hours in the water in the Rosario-Buenos Aires swim," Abertondo said as he relaxed in his hotel.

"I have been swimming long distances for many years and I felt sure that this was what I could do."

The Argentinian started the swim early Wednesday morning from Shakespeare Cliff near Dover. It was raining hard and the seas were choppy. The channel stayed choppy for four or five hours and then calmed down.

Abertondo was swept several miles up and down the channel by the flood and ebb tides. It took him 18 hours, 50 minutes to reach France.

He had a brief stop on the French coast—about two or three minutes—and then set off back, once again bucking the tides.

Altogether, 107 swimmers have swum the channel since Capt. Matthew Webb of England first did it in 1875 in 21 hours 43 minutes.

But only Abertondo has made it both ways nonstop.

Henry T. Adios Wins Little Brown Jug Pace

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — A pacer with a bigger than usual heart and a smaller than usual driver reigned today as winner of the 16th annual $70,000 Little Brown Jug for 3-year-old sidewheelers.

Henry T. Adios, a bay colt, snatched the four-heat feature Thursday from a field of 19, biggest in its history, and boosted his two-year payroll to $125,583.44 with a $21,721 payoff.

With the cash carved into five pieces in each of three heats, and a single slice for the fourth, the victor's share was the fourth smallest ever paid in the classic event over Delaware County Fairground's half-mile oval.

Stanley Dancer, 34-year-old driver who stands 5-9 and weighs 130, piloted Henry T. to his conquest.

Lang Hanover, the chestnut colt owned by Cincinnati's Samuel Huttenbauer, won the first section of the divided field in 2:01, beating Adios by a half length.

Way Wave, bay filly owned by the Castleton Farm of Lexington, Ky., took the second section in 2:01 1-5, hitting the wire a neck ahead of Henry T. Adios.

The first five came from each of the first two heats for a runoff and Henry T. romped home in 1:58 4-5.

That brought the three heat winners back for the big one.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

TV Inquests Offer Happy Hunting Ground

Inquests into television entertainment still offer a happy hunting ground to the politically-minded, as attested by the continuance of Sen. Thomas Dodd's probe into TV's effect on juvenile delinquency and the resumption of the Federal Communications Commission's hearings into program practices next Tuesday. It is, to the reporter who attempts to measure industry reaction to these interminable interrogations, one of the great surprises of television that so many remain of tranquil mind.

Marie Torre

Not only is there widespread imperturbability, but there is also a patent feeling among responsible members of the industry that these investigations never should end.

LOGICIANS compare their effect to the highway driver who slows down upon sighting a patrol car.

Putting it in television terms, a continuing investigation produces the healthy effect of self-improvement, while the recommendations that bring to a close the work of any investigation committee often raise questions of political censorship and control.

This appreciation for what Washington committees accomplish while in existence is reflected in many ways.

A network man, for example, attributes the cancellation of the high-rated "The Untouchables" by ABC's affiliated station in Cleveland as one of the beneficial results of the anti-violence headlines that have come out of TV probes.

ANOTHER network executive points to growing selectivity on the part of buyers in the television market as something else brought about by Washington watchfulness.

And an actor-producer named Dick Powell comes out for TV investigations even though they have been known to affect at least one of his properties adversely.

Powell relates his experience with Gertrude Berg's "Mrs. G. Goes to College," one of the situation comedies produced by Four Star Productions, of which he is president.

"I recently noticed," said Powell, "that about 30 stations in the CBS lineup did not plan to carry the show. I attempted to do something about it by calling the individual station managers myself.

"WHAT I LEARNED was very interesting. I found out that some stations had decided against taking the show, not because they didn't think it was good, but because it didn't fit into their plans for balanced programming, the very thing critics say TV doesn't have enough of.

"Whereas stations once thought nothing of scheduling a full evening of situation comedy, they're now taking pains to see that a night's programming has a little of everything—comedy, drama, music, news and public affairs.

"I hate to see the Gertrude Berg show not used by every station, but I'm encouraged by this trend. I think it's good that station managers now are taking a careful look at their schedules."

POWELL, who will have his own anthology series, "The Dick Powell Show," on NBC this season, also points to assorted directives from networks to TV producers.

"On the subject of violence, the word is, don't kill unless necessary—just wound 'em," Powell explained.

"The recent payola scandal inspired other rules. Saying "Scotch' or 'bourbon' on TV is now taboo. We use instead terms like 'drink' or 'an old-fashioned' or 'martini.' Also, a car is a car, never a Cadillac or Rolls-Royce any more.

"I have no quarrel with rules of this kind if they make for a better, cleaner TV."

In this agreeable state, Powell even appreciates and understands the motives of politicians who choose to make the entertainment field a target.

"If I were a politician," he remarked, "I'd investigate the entertainment world. Is there a better way to break into the headlines?"

Health Board To Ask Action On Nuisance

The Board of Health decided again Thursday night to ask City Council what steps it has taken to abate a health nuisance at Columbian Park.

Board members reported they are continuing to receive complaints from nearby East End residents and pointed out the board has asked Council repeatedly to abate the nuisance. Stagnant water collects, creating a health hazard.

The problem first arose several months ago when the health board asked Council to take action. A Council committee conferred with W. Leland Thompson, owner of the tract, who promised to take corrective steps.

Dr. E. G. Kuhlman, health commissioner, presented reports from various departments at the board's meeting.

Sanitary Inspectors Septimus Cook and John Owen completed 294 inspections of food handling establishments and other investigations during the month.

Mrs. Luella Bevan, registrar of vital statistics, reported 116 births and deaths in the city during the period between Aug. 17 and Sept. 20.

E. R. Liebschner, chairman, presided. Next meeting is Oct. 19.

The indictments were returned Thursday before Federal Court Judge Charles J. McNamee.

Charged with the $19,613 holdup of the Union National Bank branch in Wickliffe near Youngstown June 7 was Daniel J. Ford, 51, of Youngstown. The indictment accused Ford, an unemployed house painter, of putting a bank employe's life in jeopardy with a .38 caliber revolver.

Two Massillon men, Donald J. Gutshall, 25, and Manuel Lojo, 25, were accused of the $5,307 Beach City Banking Co. holdup in Canton Aug. 11. The indictment said Gutshall was armed.

In another action, two Lorain men were indicted on a double-count charge of kidnaping and not releasing their victims unharmed. Their arraignment will be the same time as the others.

George E. Bentley, 43, and Logan Mullins, 26, were charged with kidnaping two women July 2 and transporting them from Avon Lake to Jackhorn, Ky. The indictments said the women—Dorothy M. Stancil, 42, of Cleveland and Sandra Goslin, 21, of Brownsville, Pa.—were beaten, bruised and injured before being released.

Senior Citizens Hold Devotions, Music Program

Devotions and music featured the program of the Senior Citizens group Thursday afternoon in the social rooms of the Calvary Methodist Church.

Mrs. Thelma Thomas, devotion leader, compared home environment in discussing two funerals—that of a rich man and of a missionary. A solo, "How Long Has it Been," was given by Mrs. Lessie Thomas with the devotion leader accompanist.

Group singing led by Mrs. Thelma Thomas and a solo, "Beyond the Sunset," by Mrs. Lessie Thomas, opened the program.

Mrs. Thelma Thomas discussed timing the boiling of an egg with a hymn or verses and Thomas C. Jones spoke on the Florida Senior Citizens Group.

Mrs. Rozella Hickenbottom gave a report on a meeting of the Salem group she attended last week, and presented a number of ideas that would benefit the local group.

Roll call was answered with birthday dates and it was decided to hold a birthday party each month for those with anniversaries.

The Rev. Carl Beighley, pastor, spoke briefly.

Luncheon preceded the meeting and Mrs. Thelma Thomas gave the invocation.

Next meeting is Thursday afternoon.

Aboard Luxury Vessel

Ike And Mamie 'Gamble' —Winnings Fight Cancer

By ROBERT HOLTON

ABOARD THE NIEUW AMSTERDAM (AP) — A chap named Eisenhower — Dwight D. Eisenhower — won about $60 shooting crap aboard this luxury vessel early today.

Unconfirmed reports have it that his lady—Mamie—did even better at the roulette tables.

And there were other notables aboard who pitted their skill against lady luck—one governor, a senator, dozens of foreign diplomats and a goodly portion of those whose names appear regularly in the blue book of social lions.

They all did it to fight the cancer which 15 years ago took the life of Damon Runyon—a writer who immortalized the "floating crap game" which had been outdone at last.

The liner left from Hoboken — across the harbor in New Jersey —under sponsorship of the New York City Committee of the American Cancer Society.

"I just bet on some fellow holding the dice whom I had never seen before and by gosh I came up a winner," said the former President.

"I just played and won," said the former First Lady.

New Jersey's Gov. Robert E. Meyner and his wife steered clear of the lavish gambling establishment which went into full operation in one of the saloons of the ship the minute she went beyond the three-mile limit.

The likes of Runyon's seedy characters — Nathan Detroit and Harry the Horse—were evident by their absence.

In their places were such as the Rockefellers, the Drexels, the Frelinghuysens, the Gerrys and the Huttons.

Each paid $100 for a steak dinner, drinks and the legal right to lose a wad of money.

Nobody left the ship with more money than he had when boarding five hours earlier.

Early in the evening, Eisenhower indicated to friends that he would spend the time playing bridge with a willing expert named Robert Goren.

But the ex-President and his lady decided to try their luck at the tables instead, and ended up the wealthier for their decision.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Jack Benny Shares Youth Recipe

Middle age is not the same time of life for everyone, birthdays notwithstanding.

Take Jack Benny, for good example. He's been 39 now for going - on 29 years. That's really an excellent record, and even better psychology.

Ida Jean Kain

A story in Today's Health last spring about this durable comedian is certainly well worth quoting.

"That 'only 39' gag my writers came up with was just about the best thing that ever happened to me," Jack Benny reports. "The cliche, 'You're only as old as you feel,' happens to be true. I feel young and as far as I can find out, I'm healthy."

WHAT, IN THIS comedian's opinion, is most important to keeping young . . . diet, exercise, or mental attitude? It's the latter. "To stay young in heart, think as young people do. Look forward, never backward. Work instead of worrying," he summed up.

This actor does not minimize the physical aspects of keeping young and vigorous. "To stay young-looking and keep healthy, you have to give some thought to it and work at it," he added. Mr. Benny gets regular outdoor exercise. And he watches his food intake.

"This is imporant and it's not likely that you can keep your weight where it belongs without counting calories. You can't have three chins and look young." So he controls starches, sugar, and fats. He uses sugar substitutes and drinks skim milk. He keeps his weight controlled even though he has stopped smoking.

It's well known that this veteran comedian has more energy, vitality, and bounce than performers half his age.

We all need to think young and banish our phobias about aging. Then the extra years added to our life span can be added to the best years of living.

We often think we might like to be younger if we could know all we know now. Well, in a wonderful way science has made this miracle come true.

SO LET US think of 50 as the high noon of life. Actually middle age can be an elastic period from 40 to 70.

When we lose our enthusiasm, we begin to grow old. When we stop learning, we start aging. When we stop using our bodies, the aging process catches up with us fast.

Since there is no physiological age at which we must stop all activity, there is no age at which we must grow old. This is by no means the same as hanging on to youth for dear life, but rather to keep our zest for living fully.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Four-Point Reading Program Offered

In most schools in the United States, the child may be set to read for several months before he is taught the alphabet. Some children won't even be taught to read for some weeks or months. The explanation by the school may be that he is not yet ready to begin to read. If either procedure applies to your child, don't argue with the teacher or try to change her ways. She is only doing what she has been taught to do or told to do by her "superiors". Here are some things you can do at home that will hardly hamper your child at school but should, in the long run, greatly help him:

Dr. Garry Meyers

1. KEEP ON reading to him from books or children's magazines he will enjoy.

2. Read some nursery rhymes and other musical verse to him, so he will enjoy sounds and the rhyming of words. After frequent reading of a rhyme, sometimes pause to let him fill in the rhyming word at the end of a line.

3. Call to his attention signs on the street, in stores and the like; and to names of foods and other articles on containers.

4. Make in large clear print some placards, naming a familiar article about the home on each placard — chair, table, door. Attach to or lay upon the object the placard naming it. Begin with just a few. Add more later.

In your own way, help him learn the words on each placard.

In like manner, you might have him cut out pictures of familiar objects, pasting these pictures on a sheet of cardboard or stiff paper, or in a scrapbook.

UNDER EACH picture print in large letters (not capitals) the word naming each object. These practices will give him the hang of learning names of things.

If your child has been taught for a few weeks or months to read at school, by the prevailing word-method, often called the "look and say method", you might wisely teach him the alphabet, a few letters at a time.

Be sure not to burden him with many letters all at once. It's better for him to attack one or two letters an evening than five or six of them.

By all means, if your child is in the second grade, make sure he can name every one of the 26 letters of the alphabet when he sees it.

My bulletins, "Helping Child at Home in Early Steps of Reading" and "Home Fun with Phonics," may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Ashtabula Welfare Shuts Door On 5,000

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—Ashtabula County's welfare department has closed its doors to the 5,000 county residents who rely on it for relief checks and surplus food.

The action was taken Thursday by John Koren, welfare director, who cited a recent ruling by County Prosecutor Robert Webb that the department cannot resort to deficit spending. The year's deficit now is estimated at $200,000. The entire 1961 appropriation of $770,000 already has been spent.

Summit Development To Cost $30 Million

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Plans have been disclosed for a development to cost up to $30 million during the next five years in Bath Twp. in northern Summit County.

A shopping center, apartment building, a motel, an eight-story office building, a service station and bowling lanes are included in the proposal. The planned site is a triangle bordered by U.S. 21, Ohio 18 and the Cleveland-Massillon Road (old U.S. 21).

Killed In Collision

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Fannie M. Justice, 61, of Elyria was killed Thursday in a truck-car collision at the intersection of Ohio 303 and a county road in Lorain Twp.

America will lay a great deal of its scientific prestige on the line next April when it puts on public display a dramatic presentation of U. S. scientific achievement at the 1962 Seattle World's Fair.

16 Musicians Sue Cleveland Federation

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sixteen members of the Cleveland Orchestra have filed suit in U.S. District Court against the Cleveland Federation of Musicians, Local 4, to prevent the trial of orchestra members before union officials arising from a fight over contract negotiations.

Also asked in the suit is $320,000 in damages from the officers and executive board members of the union.

Won't Yield To Khrushchev

BULLETIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk called on the United Nations General Assembly today to name "an outstanding world leader" to take over the powers of U.N. secretary-general temporarily.

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev apparently must decide in the next week or so whether he wants to negotiate on a compromise settlement of the Berlin crisis or force his demands for Western concessions closer to the brink of war.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk is understood to have told Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko here Thursday that the Western powers have no intention of accepting Khrushchev's terms for negotiation. The Soviet leader has insisted the West must accept his proposal for a peace treaty with divided Germany as the basis of a deal over West Berlin.

Rusk told Gromyko the United States, Britain, France and West Germany want a peaceful solution of the Berlin issue but that they will never yield to Soviet threats or bargain away their basic rights in the disputed city. Gromyko gave no sign of willingness to modify the Soviet position, but did agree to meet Rusk again next week.

The interval between sessions gives both men time to report to their respective chiefs—President Kennedy and Khrushchev. Rusk is expected also to inform Allied governments. While there is no time limit on the talks, Western diplomats say Khrushchev's decision on a basis for East-West negotiations should be made known in a week or so.

Rusk has an opportunity today to explain publicly the stand of the United States and its Allies as developed in a Western foreign ministers conference at Washington a week ago. He will address a luncheon meeting of the Foreign Press Association with a question and answer session to follow.

The U. S. and Soviet foreign policy chiefs met in Rusk's skyscraper suite in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel for 4½ hours Thursday. The session was the first in a series initiated by Rusk to find out whether a basis for East-West negotiations is possible.

Half a dozen aides and advisers of each attended the luncheon, including Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin, the top U. S. and Soviet delegates to the United Nations.

Around the blue-clothed dining table the conferees talked over the problems of peace in Laos, where Red military successes earlier this year forced the U.S.-supported Laotian government and the Western powers to seek a solution in neutrality for the Asian kingdom.

They also discussed the leadership crisis in the United Nations following the death of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.

First Case In Ohio

4 Indicted For Numbers Forms Face Extradition

Pittsburgh Men Cited In Lisbon Raid

County Grand Jury Names Quartet And Sales Book Concern

Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy said at Columbus he plans to extradite four Pittsburgh men indicted under the state's new anti-gambling law unless they subject themselves to Ohio law.

The indictments, returned Thursday by the recalled Columbiana County Grand Jury, were the first against individuals since the Ohio law making the numbers racket a felony became effective Sept. 1.

They were returned, individually and corporately, against four officers of the Lisbon Sales Book Co. and against the corporation itself. They resulted from a raid led personally by McElroy Sept. 6.

The individuals were indicted on two charges each: For manufacturing and printing numbers materials and for aiding and abetting a crime. Named in the indictments were Martin Sufrin, president of Lisbon Sales Book Co.; Isadore Sufrin, vice president Joseph Sufrin, secretary-treasurer, and Michael Schmidlmeier, general manager.

The corporate indictment was on the accusation the company printed and manufactured numbers books.

The indictments were presented to Common Pleas Judge Joel Sharp.

McElroy said the four will be notified when the date is set for their arraignment.

If they fail to appear at the arraignment, McElroy said the state will then take steps to extradite them. They reside at 1207 Muriel St., Pittsburgh.

Five cylindrical printing presses and large supplies of books said to be used in writing policy slips were seized in the raid. McElroy said then the company was the third largest numbers slip supplier in the nation, shipping to a dozen eastern states. No plant employes were arrested and the owners were away at the time of the raid. Three plant employes later appeared before the grand jury.

Maximum penalties are three years in prison and fine of $1,000.

The bill returned by the panel in the one-day session was technically a secret indictment, Prosecutor William Brokaw said.

John W. Gleason of Columbus, assistant attorney general, presented the case yesterday.

Gleason was aided by Atty. Jack Nybell of Youngstown, also an assistant. Two agents from the Bureau of Criminal Identification Investigation at London testified, along with three plant employes and three Wellsville men.

The September Grand Jury convened last week and returned 32 indictments for the accumulation of county cases, then was ordered to return yesterday for the numbers slips investigation.

Misses Mainland

Hurricane Heads Out Into Atlantic

By The Associated Press

Hurricane Esther, downgraded to a tropical storm, headed on out to sea today. Her center never touched the American mainland.

The Boston Weather Bureau Thursday night reported she was traveling northeasterly into the Atlantic with a center wind velocity of less than 70 miles per hour.

The Canadian maritime provinces, alerted for any big blow, were told to expect winds of only 40 m.p.h. and a fair amount of rainfall.

Esther inflicted much less damage than expected, and no deaths directly attributable to the storm were reported.

An alert along the entire Eastern Seaboard aided considerably.

Most of the damage was caused by high winds which blew down trees and power lines, by high coastal tides, and by flooding due to heavy rainfall.

New England, remembering the devastating hurricane of 1958, girded for heavy damage. But Esther veered to sea when it appeared she would make her first landfall at Cape Cod.

Among the Cape Codders evacuated were President Kennedy's two children, Caroline, 3, and John Jr., 9 months. They were taken from Hyannis Port, Mass., to Otis Air Force Base.

Full Debate Set For U.N. On Red China

Seating Issue Gets Approval Of Both U.S., Soviet Union

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The explosive question of whether Red China should be admitted to the United Nations today was assured a full assembly debate for the first time in U.N. history.

The United States and the Soviet Union both voted to put it on the General Assembly's agenda but with different goals. Washington is trying to keep Peiping out of the world organization and Moscow wants to bring in its Chinese ally.

The balance of power in the voting may rest with the new African nations, some of whom are friendly toward Peiping.

The Chinese question was one of several issues that brought on sharp debate in the assembly's 21-nation Steering Committee on Thursday.

Overriding bitter Soviet objections, the committee vowed to set up a separate debate on a treaty to end nuclear tests. The United States and Britain, sponsors of the move, hope this will spotlight the new round of tests started by the Soviet Union. Soviet representatives tried to have the question lumped with the assembly's debate on all disarmament questions.

Also approved for debate was the question of U.N. aid to prevent population growth. The topic was suggested by Sweden and Denmark and opposed by a number of Roman Catholic countries who fear this will lead to a U.N. debate on birth control.

Outside the committee, a move got under way to bypass Soviet opposition and name a stop-gap successor to the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold. Support was growing for the assembly to name an interim chief of the U.N. secretariat.

Chester Gets Set For Part In Fund Drive

Under the direction of Robert W. Gray, district Boy Scout executive, the Chester Division of the upcoming Community Fund campaign held its first organizational meeting Thursday night at Chester City Hall.

Serving with Gray as an Advisory Board are Eugene Hall, Russell Davis, Walter Jordan and Mrs. Charles French.

According to Gray, a total of more than 40 volunteers are being recruited for the separate Chester fund unit, which will conduct its solicitation in conjunction with the area Community Fund campaign in October.

Approximately 160 prospective Chester donors have been divided into nine classifications, each to be contacted by an assigned team of solicitors. At last night's meeting, donor lists were drawn up and assigned to these nine team captains:

Robert Edwards, groceries and restaurants; Leland Fowler, insurance and tourist homes; Mrs. Ruth Cox Turner, mercantile; Walter Jordan, public service; James D. Cooper, drugstores and professional; Ralph Hobbs, garages and service stations; Dale Allison, miscellaneous businesses; Mrs. Robert Gray, beauty shops, dry cleaners and barbers; Richard Mey, taverns.

Richard Emmerling, Community Fund campaign chairman, also addressed the group briefly, pointing out the "many direct benefits to Chester residents through the six Community Fund agencies. . .such as the 250 boys who take part in Boy Scouting. . .or the 171 Girl Scouts from Chester. Last year, the Salvation Army gave aid and comfort to 15 families in the Chester area. The Recreation Council provides qualified supervision of five Chester playgrounds. And, we all know that we have only the one YMCA in East Liverpool to serve this entire tri-state area. . .there is no question but that good use is made of its facilities by both adults and young people. We know, too, that

Red Offensive Against Viet Nam Forecast

May Press Regular Forces Into Drive Seen In November

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some military authorities today forecast a drive by Communist North Viet Nam to grab part of anti-Communist South Viet Nam, possibly by using regular forces instead of guerrilla infiltrators.

Such an offensive, they said, could come in November and December, after the rainy season ends in that part of the world.

A move of this sort could present the United States with a grave challenge about the time the Berlin crisis might be coming to a head. Such twin threats thousands of miles apart would put considerable strain on U.S. military resources.

"One thing is fairly clear," said one military expert on Southeast Asia. "The North Vietnamese want some kind of an enclave to play with politically."

By this, he indicated a belief that the North Vietnamese Reds may be anxious to occupy a slice of South Viet Nam, as a base for creating a puppet "government" to rival the pro-Western regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Up to now, the Communists have relied chifely on hit-and-run guerrilla bands in the years-long offensive. Sometimes they have managed through terror tactics to dominate regions of South Viet Nam, but never to take them over entirely. The Communists rarely have challenged the American-trained South Vietnamese Army in full dress battle.

The Kennedy administration has undertaken a big increase in U.S. military aid to South Viet Nam, pointed in part at building up that country's army, providing better arms and other equipment.

Jury Ignores Charge Against City Resident

The recalled September Grand Jury Thursday returned indictments against a Lisbon man and a Lisbon area youth, and ignored a charge against an East Liverpool man.

Indicted were Herbert McCullough of Pleasant Heights, Lisbon, assault and battery on Charlesetta Wilson, also of Lisbon, and Howard Cusick, 17, of Lisbon R. D. 2, formerly of Cleveland, operating a motor vehicle without the owners consent.

A charge of assault to rape against Clarence Jones, 28, of 8th Ave., LaCroft, was ignored.

The panel reported to Judge Joel H. Sharp at 3:30 p. m. The judge excused the jury, but advised members they would be on call for duty unfil a new panel is selected in January.

Foreign Aid Seen Bar To Adjournment

Congress Aims To End First Session By Saturday Night

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign aid remains the toughest problem for Congress to settle before adjournment.

Senators and House members already were drifting away from Washington as leaders on both sides passed the word they were determined to close down the first session of the 87th Congress Saturday night.

Senate-House conferees held their first sessions on the foreign aid bill Thursday and broke up in flat disagreement without even fixing a meeting time for today. But they were expected to get togehter by this afternoon.

The Senate passed a $4,196,600,000 bill while the House voted $539 million less. House conferees Thursday demurred strongly against accepting compromise figures close to the Senate version.

The controversial bill to ease the tax burden on DuPont Co. stockholders who might receive General Motors stock in a divestiture proceeding comes up for Senate debate today.

But chances for final action on it this session appeared slim. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he would put it over until January if prolonged controversy developed.

The House passed the bill Tuesday night and the Senate Finance Committee cleared it in a late session Wednesday night.

Chester Park Heads Reject Sale Of Land

Postal Department Sought Tract For New Post Office

The Chester City Park Commission Thursday announced it has decided to turn down a proposal to sell a tract of land at the park for the site of a post office building.

An offer of $10,000 for a 100-x-160-foot lot along the 5th St. side of the park had been submitted to the commission Sept. 6, and the members took the proposal under study.

However, members issued a public statement yesterday saying the offer had been turned down after "much debate and many inquiries."

The commission said that although Chester High School will probably not be using the field for football after 1962 or 1963 "and we have no way of knowing what use will be made of the field in the next 10 or 20 years, we still are against selling the lot."

A new 600-pupil senior high school is to be erected near Pughtown as part of major revision of the school system which would combine the Chester, Newell and New Cumberland education pro-

Youth Is Shot By Hunter

Wellsville District Victim Listed 'Fair'

A 16-year-old Wellsville youth — first squirrel hunting casualty in Columbiana County for the 1961 season — is in "fair" condition today at Salem City Hospital.

James Woyan, 549 Oakgrove Rd., Wellsville, suffered shotgun wounds of the chest, left shoulder, left side and abdomen when hit by a charge fired by another hunter on the Conkle farm in Middleton Township Thursday night about 7.

Woyan, who was visiting a cousin, Carl George of Clarkson, was hunting alone when struck by the charge fired by Jack Dunham, 25, of Clarkson who aimed his 20-gauge weapon at a squirrel on a fallen log.

Woyan was in the line of fire and shouted when hit. Dunham tried to help Woyan walk to the Conkle farmhouse, but the youth was too weak, so Dunham ran for aid.

An East Palestine physician and Negley volunteer firemen took the youth to the hospital.

Mingo Area Route 7 Closed By Landslide

STEUBENVILLE — A huge landslide has closed two miles of Ohio Route 7 between here and Mingo for about a week.

A newly constructed stretch of the road caved in Thursday because of digging beneath a parallel section of the old road.

Heart Attack Blamed

Lt. Micheal Winters Jr. Claimed Suddenly At 44

Lt. Micheal A. Winters Jr., a member of the police department for 19 years, died Thursday night at 7:20 at City Hospital, where he was taken after suffering an apparent heart attack at his home a short time earlier. He was 44.

Lt. Winters joined the force as a special patrolman June 5, 1942, and was appointed a regular patrolman April 20, 1946. He was named a lieutenant Oct. 11, 1957, by the late Mayor Arnold W. Devon.

The officer in charge of the midnight-to-8 a. m. shift, Lt. Winters worked last early Tuesday, as Wednesday and Thursday were his regular days off duty.

He and his wife, Mrs. Betty Winters, had gone grocery shopping late yesterday afternoon. After they arrived home and the groceries were put away, the lieuten-

Goleno is in "fair" condition at City Hospital with bruises and abrasions of the right side, back and thigh, and a fracture of a vertebrae received in the mishap at the Route 45 mine. He was admitted at 8:35 a. m.

Rep. Robert Taft Jr. Calls DiSalle's Record 'Pitiful'

SALEM — State Rep. Robert Taft Jr. of Cincinnati lashed out at what he called "the pitiful record" of Ohio Gov. Michael DiSalle in an address before approximately 225 persons at the countywide Republican rally at Memorial Building here Thursday night.

The son of the late U. S. Senator, Rep. Taft told his audience that the purpose of his talk was to "dispel some of the gloom about the terrible shape DiSalle says the state is in because the Republican legislature won't go along with his theory of government."

Taft said he was referring to some of the statements DiSalle made at the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner held by the Democrats Monday at Beaver Local High School.

In that talk, DiSalle accused the Republican-dominated legislature of lack of vision in opposing his program.

Taft said the governor's theory is that the solution to all problems in the state is to spend more of the taxpayers' money for what he thinks is good for them.

"We've had a taste of this program during the past two years," the speaker remarked. "This is one of the principal things that is wrong with the state, and we of the Republican party have been trying to correct it."

"Specifically," Taft continued, "it was said that Ohio is lagging in industry, in natural resources, in education and in mental health.

"As to industry, may I suggest that tripling the corporation franchise tax, adding close to $400 million to our tax load in the last biennium and sabotaging our unemployment compensation law have hardly contributed to a fa-

What Does It All Mean?

West Germans are reported to be clamoring for the resignation of Konrad Adenauer as chancellor, following last Sunday's election. Failure of the aging German leader's party to hold its once top-heavy legislative majority is supposed to have robbed him of his popular backing. That is hard to believe. It was his party that lost backing, not Adenauer.

The tipoff on what it hasn't robbed him of is the probability he will be kept in office until current difficulties are out of the way. If West Germany had a substitute for its "old one," his retirement would be done with no waste of time. He is not indispensable, but at the moment he is not replaceable.

In politics it's the image that makes the difference as often as it is the skill and resourcefulness of the leadership, itself. An 85-year-old Konrad Adenauer suits West Germans at this moment. They are in harmony with him as an image of maturity and prudence—the vaunted "father image" that always has had singular appeal for the German people.

In Turkey, on the other hand, there is no place for a father image. Turkish politics has lent itself to one of the most brutal episodes of mid-century savagery by executing a once-heroic figure, Adnan Menderes, a former premier, and two top ministers in his former cabinet.

The three men were accused of violating the constitution of Turkey, but they and 43 former Menderes officials who have been sentenced to life imprisonment are clearly guilty of only one public crime. They were caught in a political cul-de-sac that made it expedient for military dictators to kill them to prove its heartlessness and thus satisfy a demand for revenge.

Things like this are not easy for Americans to understand. Trying to guess the reasons for foreign political decisions is a project in futility. It is easier to guess what Americans meant when they made their political decisions.

It is only a happenstance that the guessing is still going on here about the decision made a year ago next month when enigmatic Americans set up a new federal administration by a popular vote so narrow it couldn't be measured and an electoral vote so it could have been toppled over by a breath of scandal.

Comforting Thought

Benches have added a note of comfort to the fountain in the Diamond.

They will have a real practical value if used properly. For weary shoppers nothing is more welcome than a spot to "get a load off their feet".

The only drawback will be if undesirable loiterers take advantage of the benches to the point where the desirable shoppers find it necessary to move on — tired tootsies or no tired tootsies. Such a situation, however, if it arises, probably can be corrected without too much trouble by the policeman on the beat.

It's rather relaxing merely to know that the benches are there ready for duty. The Garden Club deserves another pat on the back for its latest project.

Fatter Margin Of Safety

Ohio's new law about driving with full headlights 30 minutes after sunset and before sunrise aims to get a good result with a shaky approach.

The good result is an extra margin of safety on the highways, because the old law gave drivers an hour's leeway after sunset and before sunrise. That was too much.

The new law also says parking lights are no substitute for full headlights, which also fattens the margin of safety.

But the problem is that 30-minute rule about the setting and rising sun. It was tough enough to guess sunset and sunrise within an hour, but guessing within 30 minutes gives a driver no choice worth mentioning.

He will find it necessary to stay on the safe side of the law by, turning on full headlights whenever there is any doubt about visibility. That is what he is supposed to do anyway — play safe.

Last Labor Day many drivers played safe all day by driving with their lights on, to call attention to their safety-mindedness.

From now on in Ohio, a driver wanting to be sure he is within the law will turn on headlights when the sun starts to set and will keep them on until sunrise is over.

It shouldn't be necessary to spell out common sense practices in state statutes, but it is. If the approach seems a little shaky sometimes, it's because all attempts to spell out common sense are likely to seem that way.

Leaders Needed

Another opportunity for leadership is offered in an appeal by the East End Girl Scout Neighborhood Association for adults to supervise a Brownie troop and an intermediate troop.

If you feel you can do a good job, contact the association. Experience is not necessary, since a training course will be provided.

There's a wealth of self-satisfaction to be derived along with a feeling of performing a worthwhile service to the community when helping to get our young people started on the right path.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Nursing by electronics is latest idea in medical world. By mechanical-brain monitoring system, work of 10 nurses can be done in taking pulses, blood pressures, temperatures, etc. But what country needs is automation system for obtaining nurse when you're sick.

Shortage of these all-important girls and women is terrific. To get round-the-clock nurses is almost impossible, and it seems beyond human hands to obtain even one. Demand exceeds supply, especially if you're sick over weekends and holidays. Our guess is that even electronics can't solve this one.

Electronic monitoring system will save nurses much time, as charts will be automatically recorded at a central hospital station.

There may even be a video screen to show a patient blowing top when he or she can't get answer to electric button or is trying to report the lunch is cold.

One engineer advocates conveyor belts for delivering food, pillows, medicines and other necessities to hospital bedsides. He says 50 per cent of nurses' time is taken up running from room to room. He may have a bright idea, but belt conveyor substituting for Florence Nightingale is a chilling thought.

It could mean hospital scrambled eggs by shuttle and a sleeping pill by escalator. Ultimately the sick might get a doctor by telecast, a head nurse by remote control and an extra sheet through mechanical brain.

Let's not forget one all important factor in helping the sick. It's the real, live, ever-helpful nurse arriving in the old fashioned way and functioning as she always did.

What our sick need is the human touch and compassionate note unassisted by conveyor belts.

In convalesence good looks count heavily. Whether the nurse is a blonde, brunette or redhead can be a big factor. There will never be such a thing as a glamorous conveyor belt or a charming electronics gadget.

Hail to the American nurse! Block those scientists and engineers!

Five-cent postage stamp is near and the fellow about to buy groceries, get a haircut or have a shoeshine will have to decide if he can afford these things and still write a letter. High cost of correspondence will cut down output of "Hope you are all well" and "Don't forget to put out cat" letters.

Effect on romance can be extra rough. "Junk" mail will cost less postage than love letters, and following from boy to girl friend is possible.

"The five-cent stamp lets junk mail off easy but socks me and you. This is just a short note to tell you that from now on all my letters to you will be unsealed envelopes and in one corner will be the words "GOING OUT OF BUSINESS. PRICES CUT 50 PER CENT." "At first I thought of YOU CAN WIN $25,000" or 'SPECIAL THURSDAY MEAT SALE.' But I chose the other, to save money and you will be able to pick out my letters from the junk stuff.

"My love is not junk, baby. I just think the P.O. Dept. should know it is as important for me to sell undying affection, which you want, as to for companies to sell crabgrass killers, flea powders, groceries, cut rate lamps and detergents you don't want.

"The P.O. should make it tough for personal correspondence. This world is so full of bad news Washington should encourage people to correspond about love and kisses, engagement rings, etc., but Uncle Sam goes ahead and makes it not only harder to mail letters but harder to get answers.

"Things are depressing all over. I will make this short but I expect to get my job back and write longer letters oftener very soon. All my love, Oscar.

O.S.: You better put a businesslike label on your letter to me. Maybe in big letters "SUNSHINE HOMES DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION," on account of you are my sunshine and one of these days you will be my home developer.

Armistice Day in the U.S. was established in 1926 to commemorate the signing in 1918 of the Armistice ending World War I. In 1954, the name was changed to Veterans Day, so as to honor all men and women who have served America in its armed forces.

A Crushing Load

'Progress Sharing' Explained

By Victor Riesel

There is magic, for many folks in the phrase "profit sharing." It conjures up big money swiftly thrown into the family pocketbook. But many of the country's leaders, including national labor chiefs whom I've just interviewed — have been publicly or privately critical of the profit sharing pact made by the United Auto Workers and the American Motors Corp.

Victor Riesel

The man who created this formula, which he calls "progress sharing," is AMC's vice president, Ed Cushman. The agreement with Walter Reuther catapulted Cushman into international fame. He's an old friend.

I asked him why he led his company into the first such contract in the industry. I wondered what his reply was to those who charge he surrendered to Reuther.

Ed is a voluble and expressive fellow.

Here, in an exclusive interview by phone from Detroit, is his answer in his own words.

"LATE IN 1954, the new American Motors management under George Romney decided that the success of the company could best be advanced by the development of two concepts—the compact car and progress sharing," Ed Cushman asserted.

"The formal application of the progress sharing principle this year directly to employe compensation is a further extension of these basic approaches. The success generated by these concepts has in turn enlarged our opportunity to put them to work.

"There was originality in the Rambler compact car concept, and the public responded so strongly to it that a dramatic revolution took place in the automobile industry. But we lay no claim to originality in progress sharing. We feel that it is an American fundamental and that American economic growth has been based on the principle of progress sharing.

"Our conviction is that the fruits of economic progress must be shared equitably among all those who contribute to that progress—stockholders, customers, employes, suppliers, dealers.

"The success of an individual company, we feel, usually reflects the degree to which it enlists and rewards all participants.

"Our proposal to institute a formalized employe progress sharing plan was made as we opened our union contract negotiations this year because we felt that tying the employe's financial interest directly to the company's profits as the prime indicator of the success of the total effort is morally and economically sound, and would stimulate further progress for our company.

"The timing also was favorable, because American Motors had a proven record of profitable operation entering the negotiations that it did not enjoy during contract talks in previous years."

MR. CUSHMAN then added, "Wage and benefit payments, in our opinion, should be related importantly to individual company success, just as labor contracts should be related to individual company specifics rather than to generalities based on the economic facts of other companies.

"Thus our plan was also designed to break away from the pattern-plus settlements imposed upon us by the union in past years. These not only involved the wage and benefit levels of the Big Three automobile companies, but also tacked on the added penalties of cumbersome seniority provisions, extra paid relief time, and work standards that impeded the most effective utilization of manpower.

"The plan establishes the same basic principle for sharing company results among all employes, least skilled worker.

"Since it is contingent on results, it makes possible more liberal employe benefits in years of greater success than is practical on a fixed cost basis, while enabling equal increases in benefits to stockholders and customers.

"Except for the infrequent genuine product innovation, the greatest potential area of competitive advantage lies in workmanship—in the human beings who make up a company. The direct identification of the employe with those mutual benefits in many areas.

"DISCUSSIONS of automation and advanced mass production techniques have overshadowed realistic consideration of the contribution of the individual worker.

"There still is no substitute for the good worker who has a real equity in what he produces, not to speak of the human values involved. We think our employes will draw a greater sense of accomplishment out of their jobs under our sharing plan, with psychological as well as financial rewards.

"Heightened personal interest and concern should encourage increase cost consciousness per man and a further increase in the superior quality of our product, and this in turn should provide us with a significant competitive edge.

"The automobile companies all have comparable resources to draw upon. None has a corner on engineering or design skill, selling ingenuity, the latest machine tools, the best materials.

"The program strengthens management in a number of ways. Since it was initiated freely by management, it indicates clear recognition of the common interest in the success of the enterprise shared by management and employes and minimizes the grounds for antagonism has been too characteristic of employe-employer relations.

"And we are delighted that our agreement has given us the opportunity to clarify our management rights and define them against improper union encroachment.

"OUR AGREEMENT provides that the management has the sole right to determine the products to be made, the location and methods of production, all methods of selling products, including pricing, and to make all financial decisions, insure the right to maintain the company's books in confidence.

"Not only do the management rights provisions recognize these as unilateral management rights, but the union agrees not even to request the company to bargain about them!"

The AMC vice president then concluded. "Tying the employes' financial interest directly to the success of the group effort of all associated with the enterprise seems to us essential if competition is to be the effective force it must be in a free society.

"The progress - sharing approach makes this interest clear."

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: I am taking a poll on the fears of the day. I am not in a position to report my findings, because I haven't had time to drive out Oak Hill Rd. to pick up the opinions of the Semphills, who are my favorites. Old Lady Semphill once was polled by the Literary Digest.

Fortunately, though, I am ready to tell you I am finding no one who is afraid about Berlin, and this will surprise you more than it surprised me, because I never was afraid about Berlin either. All things considered, I think Berlin has been exaggerated as a trembling point. As far as I am concerned, personally, I think we had a hole in our head when we let ourselves get trapped there in the first place.

Another thing people are not afraid of is being atomized in a nuclear explosion. It has been a puzzle to our public officials about this attitude, but it is no puzzle to me.

People are not afraid of being atomized; that is, destroyed utterly. If it happened to everybody at the same time it would be like the end of the earth, and there is no sense in being afraid of that.

What people dread is not being destroyed utterly. They dread being crippled. They dread the possibility they might live in holes and caves, not knowing where their loved ones are. They dread the prospect of pillaging, looting and killing in the wake of atomization.

Among the elderly — and aside from the grisly prospect of atomic destruction — the fear that lays the coldest hands on the human heart is lingering illness, with mental and physical impairment. They dread the possibility of becoming a burden to themselves and others.

As for some of the fears that are supposed to be big, I can find no evidence of their existence. No one is afraid of urban sprawl.

Inflation, which is supposed to make our flesh creep, has been a bogeyman so long we are getting fond of it. The prospect of getting more and more dollars that are cheaper and cheaper isn't dreadful because for most of us that's the only way we'll get our hands on more money.

No one I've polled has been afraid of Communist spooks, but I hasten to point out that this is because these are people I know and in a settled community like Cotton Corners there's no spookery.

We all trust each other. Except for some gypsies that pass through occasionally, we don't keep our eye on anybody. We don't lock our doors and there are no No Tresspassing signs unless it's hunting season and the half-disciplined slickers are due to arrive with their wire-cutters and half-trained dogs.

I suppose we are blessed in our state of innocence, and I shudder to think how awful it must be to live someplace where you suspect your next-door neighbor is a subversive influence, or worse yet to live someplace where your neighbor suspects you were a subversive influence.

I do not claim this is a representative community. It is anything but that. It is an ideal community, one of those places where the American dream has been fulfilled by people who understood it, rather than frustrated by people who never took it seriously.

Acid Test For U.N.

By David Lawrence

Military Intervention Seen Inappropriate

Internationalism — which seeks at times to impose peace through a league or association of sovereign states — is face to face today with one of its greatest tests. The League of Nations failed in this very task. Will the United Nations now fall down, too?

David Lawrence

Theoretically a league of equals could be construed to mean that each nation is prepared to forego its sovereignty to a certain extent and to bow to the will of the majority in adjusting its external relations.

Whether a league seeks to accomplish this by moral force—which is, of course, more desirable—or by military force as a last resort, the biggest single requirement is that both sides in a dispute shall have absolute confidence in the integrity of the international organization itself that assumes the role of policeman.

Today the United Nations has lost the confidence of many nations which are members of it.

The late Dag Hammarskjold tried an experiment—to use the office of secretary-general of the U.N. as a kind of benevolent policeman. In Korea and in the Middle East and later in Africa the use of military force was authorized by the United Nations itself.

Because of the political entanglements of various members of the U.N., not one of these efforts could accomplish any more than a cease fire or an armistice.

The Korean problem, for instance, is still unsolved. The Middle Eastern situation is in a sort of stalemate, without a solution, and the mess in the Congo is still characterized by sporadic fighting.

The original concept of the League of Nations—which was reiterated in the words of the U.N. Charter—assumed that an internal clash might produce external complications, but there was no right to interfere in internal situations.

UNFORTUNATELY, today the sad truth is that the Soviet government is engaged in a worldwide effort to infiltrate inside other countries and take over government after government for the purpose of winning allies for the cause of international communism.

This motive is couched in high-sounding phrases about socialism and people's rights, but, in reality, it is the same old story of despotism and lust for the riches of weaker states.

History is replete with examples of this same aggression, which sooner or later has plunged the major powers into war.

What has happened since the United Nations was founded in 1945 constitutes a noble effort to organize a set of law-abiding nations who would have respect for the opinion of mankind but an ogre has appeared in Moscow who overnight brushes aside, for instance, his repeated pledges that he would not resume nuclear tests.

He now laughs at the discomfiture of a world which he is sure is helpless to punish him for his misdemeanors.

There is nothing wrong in general with the ideals that gave prestige for a while to the League of Nations and later to the United Nations. But the mistake made in the last few years has been the belief that Moscow could be dealt with as an equal—as a law-abiding partner of a great alliance of nations. When such a deviation occurs, the United Nations cannot get anywhere by the use of military force.

Everybody knows that the warring factions in the Congo couldn't possibly engage in anything except desultory fighting in the jungle—which wouldn't trouble the rest of the world too much—were it not for the help given from the outside.

THE UNITED NATIONS has the machinery to expose such interference, but has not done so. World opinion has not been informed of the true culprits in the Congo.

Above all, the United Nations has not had the leadership it ought to have in the exercise of moral force. The U.N. didn't pursue its case against the Soviets in Hungary. It has acted as if it were afraid to show up Communist misdeeds.

Indeed, there was and is a case for expulsion of the present Soviet government from the U.N.—it doesn't even pay its share of the expenses—and for an appeal to the people of the Soviet Union to establish a free government that can be a true partner of the other free nations in the U.N.

Instead, today the U.N. has as many African and Asian nations that are not yet capable of governing themselves, and is talking, oddly enough, of admitting Red China, which committeed acts of aggression against the Korean Republic and actually fought against U.N. forces, inflicting tens of thousands of casualties.

The theory that every government which is in control of a certain land area deserves admission to the U.N. is one of the biggest fallacies of our times.

The U.N. has lost prestige because so many sincere but misguided persons high up in the public life of this country and of other countries, like India, actually want to see Red China admitted to the U.N.

THE VERY PROPOSAL in the U.N. General Assembly to consider such a move reveals the lack of morals that motivates so many members of the organization.

The time has come to abandon this kind of a United Nations and to build another dedicated to morality. Sovereignty should be respected, and military force should be used for intervention in a troublous area only when the lives and properties of foreign citizens are endangered. It's an old rule but a sound one. Once basic principles are abandoned, chaos follows. That's what has happened to the U.N.

The most famous American to die "on the field of honor" was Alexander Hamilton, the first U. S. secretary of the Treasury. He was killed in a pistol duel with the vice president of the U. S., Aaron Burr. Hamilton was mortally wounded on precisely the same spot where three years earlier his son also had been killed in a duel.

vorable climate for business growth and new investment in Ohio. All of these were the work of the governor's rubber stamp legislature of two years ago.

"As to natural resources, mental health and education, it should be noted that the governor apparently was satisfied with the programs set up two years ago, and yet the sizeable increases in appropriations for each of these programs approved by our Republican legislature leaves them, he believes, woefully deficient.

"Apparently the governor was satisfied with the lesser appropriations from his own party two years ago. He didn't criticize or ask for more. Was the election of a Republican legislature the reason for his change of heart?"

Taft said the philosophy of "tax and tax, spend and spend" came to Ohio in 1959 when the Democrats had majorities in both houses of the 103rd General Assembly.

He said tax increases were enacted at that time which added a load of $377 million on the taxpayers before July 1 of this year.

Increases in personnel, Taft said, were authorized in almost every department of the state. "The increases have now added over 7,000 people, most of them Democrats, to the state payroll," he asserted.

Taft said in conclusion that Democrats took every step possible to ensure that all available funds would be expended by the end of the biennium to prove that the added taxes were needed.

Atty. Henry Reese, Republican nominee for Salem mayor, was toastmaster at the rally.

E. U. Whitacre, president of the Salem Men's Republican Club and County GOP chairman, announced that efforts are being made to organize a Young Republican's Club in Salem. He said members of the state organization will be asked to come here and help set up the club.

Some of the guests introduced by Reese were Judge Joel H. Sharp of Salem, Judge Raymond Buzzard and County Recorder Richard Brian of East Liverpool, Mayor Henry Leishman of Salineville, Mayor William Shoub of Wellsville and State Rep. Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon and Rep. J. Warren Bettis of Salineville.

Also introduced were Mrs. Mary Taylor, president of the Salem Women's Republican club; Mrs. Letha Astry of Salem, central committeewoman; Miss Gladys Debolt, chairman of the Columbiana County Women's Republican Club, and Robert Bell, central committeeman.

5 Cars Damaged In City Collisions

Five autos were damaged in a series of three minor traffic mishaps Thursday afternoon and night, police reported. No one was injured.

A mishap on W. 8th St. at Oak Ln. at 4:12 damaged a 1957 two-door sedan operated by Maurice Livelsi, 20, of 1015 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, and a 1955 sedan driven by Samuel Thomas Jr. of Homestead, Fla., officers said.

Cars driven by Archie C. Pinkerton, 58, of Box 121 and Clarence L. Bishop, 18, of Hookstown, were damaged in a collision at 6:21 at E. 6th St. and Crook Alley, officers said. Pinkerton said he was halted in a line of traffic when Bishop's car hit his auto from the rear.

A mishap at 6:50 at Walnut St. and Potters Alley involved a 1953 two-door sedan driven by James W. Newman, 17, of 912 Avondale St. and a 1950 two-door sedan driven by Arthur Cartaccio, 1785 Pennsylvania Ave., officers said.

Newman said he was southbound on Walnut St., following Cartaccio, when the East End man suddenly made a right turn.

$100 Of Hay Lost In Fire

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed 120 bales of stacked hay at the Floyd Cox farm on Campground Rd. Thursday night at 9:30.

Liverpool Township West volunteer firemen doused the flaming haystack with 3,000 gallons of water and were called back this morning when the hay reignited.

The department sent three trucks and 18 men to the fire and firemen remained on the scene two hours.

Located in a corner of a field, the fire burned unnoticed for a time and had a good start by the time the alarm was received, Homer Cronin, assistant chief, reported.

Cox, a local contractor, estimated the loss at $100.

There was no other damage, although the fire occurred beneath electric wires.

Firemen were to investigate today in searching for the cause. Cronin said the Glenmoor Civil Defense unit remained on standby duty at the LaCroft station while firemen fought the blaze.

Chester

grams. Completion date has been set in 1963.

The commission said that if the lot were sold for $10,000, the field at the park, even if only to be used a short time, would have to be relocated at an estimated cost of $6,000. "The $4,000 that would be left would be of small help to us in our overall plans for the park."

"Some factions say a post office would beautify the park entrance and that this is a most suitable location, and we certainly agree.

"The commission would like the post office to be erected in this area if the commission could arrange to have it built and in turn, lease it to the federal government."

"But this is not the case. The government would take an option on the site, then would accept bids for the construction-leasing arrangement. We would most likely be underbid, because we would be trying to get the best possible price for the benefit of the park, and we are not shrewd in matters of real estate. The ground would then belong to an individual or a group, and would no longer belong to the people of Chester.

"We feel we must recognize the wishes of all those people and organizations who have helped with the park with their manual, financial and moral support."

The statement was signed by Harold Dickey, chairman, Lawrence Cline, John Pinney, John Burnquist and Cliff Comm.

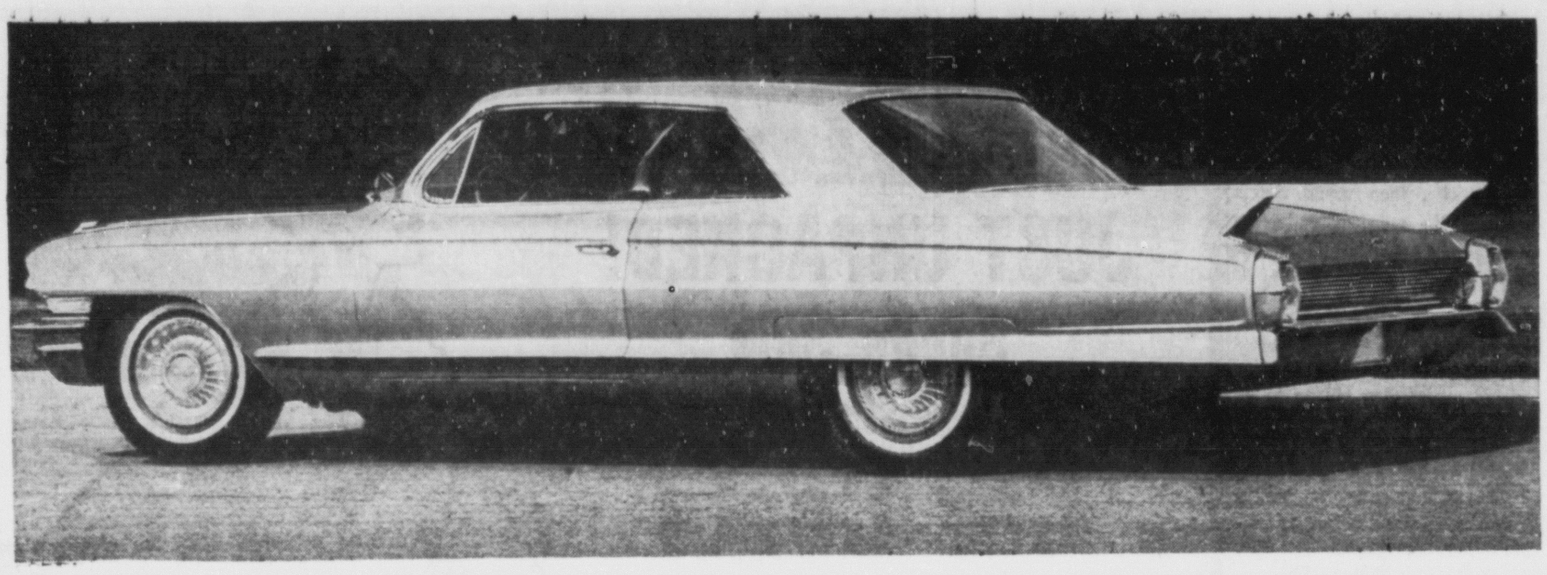
New Line Of Cars Helps Mark Cadillac's 60th Year



Beginning its 60th year in the automobile industry, Cadillac presents for 1962 the most complete and competitive line of new models in the division's history, according to Harold G. Warner, Cadillac general manager and vice president of General Motors.

The new Cadillac is now on display at Mike Turk, Inc., 415 E. 6th St. The coupe above reveals the new rear quarter styling.

"A dramatically new silhouette, outstanding engineering achievements and important safety features, new to any American motorcar, are combined in our anniversary automobile," Warner said.

"As the records show, safety always is of prime concern to Cadillac each year. This year is no exception. In fact, in 1962 there is even more emphasis on safety with a new dual braking system and significant lighting developments, both in the front and rear of the automobile.

In this anniversary year, Cadillac is offering 12 models, the same as last year. Five of the 12 will feature a classic new roof design, giving an entirely new silhouette to the car and changing the over-all styling personality.

This sleek and low roof design which reflects the leadership of last year's Fleetwood Sixty Special Sedan appears on the four-window Sedan de Ville, the Coupe de Ville, Sixty - Two Coupe, Town Sedan and Park Avenue Sedan.

The wheelbase is unchanged—129.5 inches on all models except the Series Seventy - Five Sedan and Limousine at 149.8 inches.

Over-all length remains at 222 inches on eight models, while the Series Seventy-Five Sedan and Limousine again are 242.3 inches in length. The new Park Avenue Sedan joins the Town Sedan at 215 inches. Over-all width also is unchanged.

Apportionment Board Gives Legislative Setup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Secretary of State Ted W. Brown was probably humming that song, "There'll Be Some Changes Made," as the state apportionment board met Thursday to prescribe the number of Ohio legislative seats each county will have in the next decade.

Ohio's constitution requires the board to apportion State Senate and House seats for the next decade on the basis of the 1960 federal census.

The board is composed of Brown, fellow Republican James A. Rhodes, the state auditor, and Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

Brown said most of the membership changes in the legislature offered no apparent problems under the rigid rules prescribed for apportionment.

Senatorial District Will Revert To One

The 20th-22nd State Senatorial District, which includes Columbiana County, will revert to one seat under the apportionment board's action.

Two now represent the district — Sen. Arthur Blake of Martins Ferry and Sen. Edmund Sargus of St. Clairsville —as a result of periodic reapportionment in 1959. Only one served in the previous decade. The district includes Jefferson, Harrison and Belmont Counties.

Iowa's total acreage is almost 95 per cent in farms.

Truck Rams Newell Pole In Avoiding Car

A driver who signaled for a right turn, then turned left, and a following tractor-trailer rig added up to a traffic crash in Newell Thursday.

Arthur Forsythe, 26, of Ellwood City told Hancock County sheriff's deputies the driver he was following signaled a turn with the right light, then suddenly turned left.

In attempting to avoid a collision, Forsythe pulled his rig to the left and sheared off a utility pole at 6th and Washington Sts. The driver he was following failed to stop.

Electrical lines strung on the pole kept it from falling to the street, deputies said. They estimated $125 damage to the rig, owned by David E. Leviere of Portersville. It was loaded with cement.

Lt. Winters

ant complained to his wife that he had a pain in his left arm and chest. They decided he should go to City Hospital for examination, so Mrs. Winters drove her husband downtown from their home at 2072 Lisbon St.

Lt. Winters was admitted at 6:40 and died 40 minutes later. He walked into the hospital and was placed in a wheelchair and taken to the third floor. He died as he was being wheeled to his room.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and Safety-Service Director Robert Owen joined in an expression of shock at the veteran officer's sudden passing and in sympathy to his family

"In his death, East Liverpool has lost a fine officer and a good citizen," the mayor said.

Chief Americo Radeschi also expressed shock at the lieutenant's death and added: "The whole department has been shocked almost beyond words by his death. His passing is a great loss to our department because Lt. Winters was a fine officer and an example to the men in his charge."

Lt. Winters was one of the two police department representatives on the Police Pension Board. He was elected to a new two-year term last week. He was the board's secretary.

He also had been active in the Elks Lodge, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 66, American Legion Post 4, the Columbiana County Young Republican Club and the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge. He was a former member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He also was a member of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club.

Lt. Winters was born in East Liverpool April 21, 1917, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Micheal A. Winters. He was graduated from East Liverpool High School in 1931.

From 1937 to 1940, he was employed as a wareboy at the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. and from 1940 to 1943 he was employed in the city engineer's office as a junior engineer.

He served in the Navy Seabees from May 11, 1943, to Nov. 11, 1945. On July 12, 1952, he was married to the former Betty Jean Little.

In addition to his widow, he leaves two daughters, Cynthia Lynn Winters and Jill Ann Winters; six brothers, Frank Winters of Gallipolis, Samuel Winters of San Francisco and Joseph Winters, Ralph Winters, Charles Winters and Raymond Winters, all of East Liverpool, and six sisters, Mrs. Mary Metts of Wellsville, Mrs. Theresa Baiguini of Cortland, N. Y., Mrs. John Paul of Washington, Mrs. Larry Bruno of Monaca and Mrs. Richard Smith and Miss Ann Winters, both of East Liverpool.

Services will be held Monday at 10 a. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday night and Sunday.

The family requested that material tributes be in the form of contributions to the Retarded Children's Fund if the donor desires.

City Hall entrances will continue draped in black and white crepe for 30 days' mourning in the passing of Lt. Winters, Mayor Goodballet said.

It's the second death to strike the city's official family in less than a month. Former Safety-Service Director Lee Copnehaver died Aug. 23 and the municipal building's doorways have been draped with crepe. The 30 days' mourning period for Mr. Copenhaver's memory is scheduled to end Saturday.

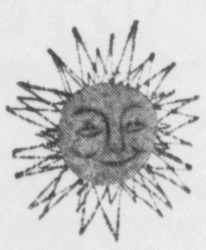
Some light on a dark subject



Ever wonder why some pills come in clear, transparent bottles, while others hide behind brown or dark-green glass? It's no accident, but by design. Why . . . ? Simple daylight can reduce the potency of some medications. Consider how sunshine fades a rayon print, for instance. Thus, where needed, we use dark bottles, not to hide anything, but to preserve the medical effectiveness of the drug your physician prescribed for you. This is but one of many precautionary measures that are taken to provide you with the best in pharmaceutical service.

You have had your first look at the new "car of cars".

It's name is Cadillac—and its destiny is a place among the most renowned automobiles of our time.

Its new styling is remarkably clean and crisp and graceful—with a look of "rightness" in every line and contour and detail.

Cadillac's new Fleetwood interiors beckon with a jewel-like beauty. There are marvelous new fabrics and leathers . . . and new conveniences and appointments on every hand.

Engineering triumphs include independent front and rear braking . . . exclusive new cornering lamps that light your way around turns . . . and a revolutionary three-phase rear lighting system.

Yet, some of the noblest advances cannot be seen. They must be felt and sensed—performance that is incredibly quiet and smooth and nimble . . . handling ease so great that the mere weight of your hand puts you in command of the road . . . craftsmanship that is so practiced and so precise that the car has become a marvel of construction and a paragon of dependability.

These new Cadillac wonders are evident in each of twelve new body styles—and are available with the widest selection of interiors in Cadillac history.

Even if you have never before considered a Cadillac—you should take a journey in this one.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

- Smallpox
- Smoking and Taste

Q. How did the disease smallpox get its name?

A. Smallpox was originally called "variola," a Latin name applied by the Bishop of Avranches. The term "smallpox" did not come into use until after the appearance of syphilis in Europe at the close of the fifteenth century. At that time, in order to avoid confusion between the rash of syphilis or "great pox," variola was designated as the "small pox."

Q. Does smoking affect the ability to taste certain foods?

A. Cigarette smoking has no effect on the ability to taste sweet, sour, or salt but smoking decreases the ability to taste bitterness.

Q. If a person is seriously injured while in a strange city, can he be taken to any hospital for treatment?

A. In most states it is doubtful whether an emergency patient has the legal right to demand hospital treatment. However, no one who needs emergency care is going to be left at the door while hospital authorities call a lawyer to determine the legal rights of the injured person. Some states have definite laws about such matters. For example, Illinois requires any hospital "where surgical operations are performed" to give emergency medical treatment or first aid to anyone who is seriously injured. In New York, "any public hospital" is under similar legal obligations.

Wanted To Make 'Big Splash'

Salesman Admits Theft Of $670,000 Paintings

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Palm Springs real estate salesman who police say admitted he took paintings valued at $670,000 "so I could draw attention to myself and make a big splash," succeeded.

Edward Henry Ashdown, 29, of Costa Mesa, Calif., led police Thursday night to a bus depot and rented garage where officers found the four art works stolen Sept. 10 from the Bel-Air mansion of industrialist David Bright.

Ashdown, arrested late Wednesday, first denied taking the two Picassos, a Modigliani and an Afro. But when the district attorney's office issued a complaint charging him with suspicion of robbery and grand theft, police said he admitted the crime.

Police traced Ashdown through fingerprints found in Bright's home.

Ashdown said he had no intention of selling the paintings.

In the Hollywood bus depot police found Modigliani's "The Chocolitier" rolled up in a suitcase stored in a luggage rack.

Picasso's "The Portrait of Sebastian" and "Looking Through The Window," and an Afro abstract were rolled together in a plastic garment bag and hung in the closet of a West Los Angeles garage Ashdown said he rented as a storage spot.

Dr. Richard Brown of the Los Angeles County Art Museum, who verified the authenticity of the paintings, said the "Portrait of Sebastian" had flaked somewhat because it had been rolled too tightly.

Ashdown told police he "cased" the Bright mansion when he visited as the guest of Bright's mother-in-law, Lottie Newmire.

A gunman knocked at the Bright door the night of the robbery and pulled a pistol from a bouquet of gladioli when the maid answered. She was forced into a closet by the thief before he made off with the paintings.

Though the paintings were insured for $246,165, a spokesman for Bright set their market value at $670,000.

Annual Chore Of Patrol

School Buses Given Safety Check

Thirteen public school buses, 10 owned by Charles R. Snyder and three by the Board of Education, received their annual safety inspection Thursday by the Lisbon barracks of the Highway Patrol.

Left to right are Patrolman N. K. Myers, Patrolman E. D. Wain and Snyder. Officers, clad in coveralls, inspected under the hoods and road tested each vehicle for steering, transmission, wipers, emergency brakes and seats. They also checked exhaust system, tires, all lights, emergency doors and the gas-proof flooring which prevents fumes from entering.

Stickers were placed on the vehicle windshields for passing the inspection. Both officers began Sept. 5 inspecting school buses in Columbiana County which has about 130 buses this year.

Buses which serve St. Aloysius Parochial School will be inspected Monday, along with Wellsville and Salem Parochial equipment.

The inspection yesterday was held at the Snyder Bus Co. garage in West End.

Wellsville's Trial Meters Have Permanent Look

By HARRY STEWART

Installed on a "trial basis" almost a year ago, Wellsville's parking meters appear to be so effective in traffic control that they apparently will become "permanent fixtures."

The contract for purchase of the city's first meters was let by the Board of Control a year ago Thursday to Magee-Hale Park-O-Meter Co. of Oklahoma City, low bidder.

The meters apparently are here to stay as they have been mentioned several times in past months during Council sessions without objections.

Solicitor William Bush said no action is needed to allow the meters to remain. "As long as Council wants them, they will stay," he said.

Bush explained the trial basis clause was included in the legislation and contract with the Park-O-Meter firm to allow the city to terminate the contract if it so desired.

The installation was started Nov. 16 and completed Nov. 18. The enforcement of the meters, marking the beginning of the trial period, started Nov. 21 and the first collection was made a week later.

At the time, a great deal of controversy arose over the meters. After the proposal to try meters finally got through City Council, opponents attempted to force a referendum. This fell through when they failed to obtain sufficient signatures for a ballot place.

Controversy continued when the contract was let. The Board of Control—Mayor William J. Shoub and Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson — presented the bids received from three firms to Council. Three favored one firm while three others suggested the matter be left entirely up to the board.

The hue and cry once heard against the meters has died. Many who first opposed the installation, now favor meters. They claim more parking space is available in the business district.

Both Mayor Shoub and Robinson still favor the meters and say they cannot see any reason for removing them.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, also favors the meters and when the subject was brought to the attention of Council this week, no objections were voiced by any member. Police Chief John Hephner also favors keeping them although he said they have created problems for his department.

Robinson said "I personally can't see any advantage to taking them out." He said the meters have helped speed the flow of traffic along Main St. With loading and unloading zones, the city no longer has the problem of double parking.

Robinson said the 24 feet allotted each parking spot makes it easier for motorists to park and there is no delay of traffic as a driver backs into a space.

Meters also give the city an additional income, he pointed out. Shoub said he believes the meters "very definitely should stay." He said they were installed primarily as a traffic control measure, with revenue secondary.

The mayor also pointed out the meters have halted "all - day" parker in the business district. Before they were installed, many persons would park their cars in the business section while they were at work.

"Any city that wants to be modern has them," the mayor said. He also pointed out the money collected already has helped the street maintenance fund, pointing out $1,500 was transferred to the street repair fund when it was depleted in the spring.

Mrs. Rahter commented she "definitely feels" the meters have helped the parking problem and provided the city a good income.

Councilman Donald Miller, finance chairman, has presented a monthly report on the meter collection since they were installed.

Tuesday night, he said the collection for nine months and 10 days totals $9,400. Since November 1960 through the last of August, a total of $2,038.50 has been collected in fines from meter violations. This is almost $200 a month in fines.

On the average, about $225 a week is collected. Half of this is paid to the meter company towards the purchase price. The payments are on a four-week basis. The other half goes into a special fund for street improvements and repairs.

Robinson said the meters have held up well. Of the manual type, the city has 225. They should be paid for in another year.

Chief Hephner said the extra work involved in the program, such as bookkeeping and patroling the meters, fell on the department. He said police are carrying the load. "The department has not been given any extra men or money to do the job," the chief said.

But, he still believes the meters should remain, pointing out they have eliminated traffic problems and have halted double parking on Main St.

Hephner said each ticket has to be listed individually. The department also is responsible for going out after "stragglers" who do not come in and pay their fines. He said police are behind in this work.

The business district is checked by a regular patrolman who also helps on other calls. Hephner said he has received numerous favorable comments from the merchants about the use of a patrolman. He said they like the idea of an officer being close by on the street in case he is needed. "Some can tell you every time the officer does not pass their store at the regular time," he pointed out.

The fine, if you get a ticket, is 50 cents if it is dropped in one of the collection boxes located along the street within 24 hours. If you wait until the next day, the ticket costs you $1.

The charge is $2 and costs of $8.70 if a warrant is issued to bring in a violator who has failed to appear voluntarily.

Money in the meters is collected by the City Hall janitor.

Garner's College Gifts Now Total $1 Million

UVALDE, Tex. (AP)— Former Vice President John N. Garner has made a second gift to Uvalde's Southwest Texas Junior College, this one for $400,000.

Three weeks ago Garner gave the school $600,000.

In making the gift Wednesday Garner said, "Everything I have was obtained from this area and I decided to give it back where it came from."

Garner, who will be 93 Nov. 22, had represented this district in Congress before becoming vice president during the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Southwest Texas Junior College has an enrollment of 300 full time and 200 part-time students.

Driver Given Fine And Jail

A $200 fine and three-day jail term were imposed Thursday afternoon in Municipal Court on Paul Victor Dawson, 1948 Dresden Ave. Ext., charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol as the aftermath of a traffic crash Aug. 9 in California Hollow.

Dawson appeared for sentencing before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, who took testimony yesterday morning from State Highway Patrolman N. K. Myers, the arresting officer. Judge Chertoff also suspended Dawson's driver's license for six months.

Dawson originally pleaded not guilty and requested a jury trial, but later switched his plea to "no contest." Thirty prospective jurors were excused Wednesday.

The patrol alleged that Dawson's car struck a big earth hauler just north of the city limits at a freeway construction crossing. Dawson's wife was injured severely and his car was demolished.

Atty. George A. Aronson entered a plea in mitigation yesterday afternoon before his client was sentenced.

He said Dawson's finances "are nil" because he is unemployed and his wife incurred heavy hospital expenses after the crash. In addition, he has been unable to replace his demolished car, the attorney added.

He cited Dawson's World War II service in the infantry from 1941 to 1945 and said the case yesterday was his client's first brush with the law.

The judge conceded that Dawson had "an exemplary war record" and that the traffic mishap was "a harrowing experience," but he said Dawson must learn not to drive and drink.

To Study Rate Hike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP—A request to increase Blue Cross rates 22.3 per cent in the Lima area will be considered carefully, Acting Insurance Supt. Robert L. Mullins said Thursday. Hospital Service Inc. said mounting hospital costs prompted the rate increase request and would boost subscriber payments more than $721,000 a year.

City Mother Opens Drive To Buy TV For Ailing Child

Touched by the plight of a 14-year-old East End girl who faces six months in a cast after two operations, a Manor Ln. mother opened her own "Dollars for Norma" fund - raising campaign Thursday night with hope that it will grow into a citywide project.

Feeling that she "just had to do something for the little girl," Mrs. Francis Wotring collected $6 from neighbors and was to continue solicitations today in the Manor Ln. area.

She hopes the $6 will grow until the fund is large enough to purchase a television set for Norma Ice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ice, 843 Valley Ave.

The youngster will enter Youngstown South Side Hospital Sept. 30 for two operations to correct spinal curvature, then lie immobile for six to nine months in a cast extending from her shoulders to her hips.

Norma worked the entire summer making potholders to raise money to buy a TV set to keep her company in the long hours she will spend in a cast recuperating from the operations.

But she cleared only about $25—far short of the cost of a TV set. Mounting hospital bills place the renting of a video set out of the question.

Mrs. Wotring said: "I don't know the little girl or her family, but I hope others in the city will take the same attitude and respond with contributions to buy her the television set."

Mrs. Wotring began the campaign after reading a story of Norma's plight in Thursday night's Review.

Mrs. Wotring, mother of two children, said "nobody turned me down when I asked for contributions at a dozen homes."

"I hope others in the city will make contributions, along with some of the service clubs," Mrs. Wotring said.

She commented she would gladly receive any donations which residents wish to send by mail, and will forward them on to the family for the television project.

About 9 per cent of the population is lefthanded.

what's new at Olsen's?

"Fashion Frontier"

"Ollie Olsen"

We have a new frontier in fashion. The trend has been established. At first glance, the basic look for for fall is surprising in its simplicity. At second glance, we find some very interesting facts. There isn't a straight line any where — easy, subtle, meandering contours fit close to the body . . . that move with the body . . . never too clinging . . . but infinitely flattering — is a trend that is here to stay. Dresses this fall have been treated with more "tricks" and artistry than ever before, presenting to the world — a world now looking to us for fashion first . . . an American tradition . . . youth and simplicity.

Olsen's starts the fall "gold rush" of '61 . . . The golden look is the look of the year. Why not stop in at Olsen's jewelry department and see the "Treasures you can afford" in a wonderful jewelry collection for the new golden year of fashion. We have the golden choice of elegance—long on fashion no matter what the length . . . chain bibs, princess length, opera length . . . all with bracelets and earrings to match. You need not limit yourself to gold. We saw the most beautiful baroque pearl and crystal sets and the popular iridescent beads in one, two, and three strands, so rich looking in all the new autumn colors. With all the beautiful knits and wools to be worn this fall, you will want more than one of these sets. If you are budget conscious, don't worry. They are priced from $1.88 up.

S-T-R-E-T-C-H is the word today in casual wear. Yes, stretch pants that are bone lean. Imagine a pant that fits to perfection — gives the impression that it was custom tailored for you alone! Well you can buy them at Olsen's sportswear department. Everyone is talking about stretch pants. These sleek pants are patterned after a famous ski pant. You will win all the fashion points if you match them up with one of the new bulky sweaters. Be one of the first to wear these new stretch pants. They come in beautiful colors, too . . . not the ordinary dark color of other pants. See them and you will love them. If Olsen's do not have your size, they will be glad to order them for you.

Let the wind whistle, let the rain fall . . . you will be as snug as can be in one of the new raccoon collared car coats that they just unpacked at Olsen's today, sturdy tackle twill-lined with man-made sherpa. Detachable raccoon collar, wear it plain or with the collar. Perfect match mate with tapered pants or a trim fitting skirt. If you're wondering just what to wear to the football games, this is the answer. They also come in full-length with a quilted lining in sizes 7-15-10-18, priced at only $24.79.

Remember Olsen's are open every night until nine for your shopping pleasure. That's all fo today. See you next Friday.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was married for 15 years. Two years ago my husband walked out on me and his 10-year-old child. He supports us and I do not have to work.

My husband considers me the villain in the story. Am I? Now that he has achieved financial and social prominence he chooses to forget that I struggled with him in the early years. He wants a divorce so he can marry another woman and adopt her 14-year-old daughter.

I have refused to give him a divorce unless he gives me a healthy settlement and sets up a trust fund for our child. I've turned down his offer of alimony and support. I detest the thought of a "monthly handout."

There's no chance for a reconciliation so don't suggest it. The question is — do you think I am unreasonable to insist that he pay dearly for what he has done to my life?—TORONTO READER.

Dear Toronto Reader: I'm unable to give you an answer because there are too many imponderables. What you consider a "healthy settlement" he may consider highway robbery. You gave me a hint of "what he has done to your life" but I don't know what you've done to his.

The wife who is cast aside usually feels bitter and often with good reason.

Discarded women who seek to impale their husbands on a thorn of spite usually wind up the big losers.

Belated Invitation

Dear Ann: My wife's second cousin is a rather well-known social figure in this town.

This elite cousin was engaged in June and is being married in six days. The engraved invitations to the formal wedding have been out for more than a month. We know this because my wife's grandmother got one.

In this morning's mail we received a handwritten invitation to the wedding. It was scrawled on plain cream - colored stationery. Any idiot can see that is not a regular invitation. They probably decided to invite us after some of the first-choice guests sent regrets.

My wife wants to go regardless. I say no. Should we send a gift? What would you do?—AFTER THOUGHT.

Dear After: A hand-written note six days before a formal wedding can hardly be considered an invitation. It's more like an invoice.

If I were you I'd send a modest gift and stay home.

Services Rendered

Dear Ann: Four of us play cards every Tuesday afternoon. The husband of one of the women is retired and he doesn't have much to do. He picks us all up, drives us to the game and then comes back to get us.

Lately he's been pulling something which I consider pretty sneaky. He has learned that the hostess serves coffee and dessert about midway in the game, so he's been coming back early to get in on the refreshments.

This irritates me because I always go to a lot of trouble to bake individual little pies or tarts and I make just enough for us girls. When he shows up I feel that I must offer him mine. He never refuses. What's the answer?—MINNIE.

Dear Minnie: The answer is don't be so nit-pickin' petty. Make an extra whatchamacallit for your free chauffeur and offer it to him with a smile.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

Potter fans shouldn't forget the note sent here by Niles football coach Tony Mason reminding us that the 1961 East Liverpool grid squad is young and inexperienced and we must be patient. They have a long way to go.

Looking over the starting lineup given to us by Bob Hedmond, who didn't inherit much in the way of size, experience, etc., in his first year at the helm, we find five seniors. But out of this group only two played any varsity football to speak of last season.

Allen Douglas, alternated at halfback in 1960, and Jim Ferello was a regular center and guard. Outside of Tom Kraft, who was the only sophomore to win a letter last season, the others are green.

East Liverpool's offense at Niles was poor, and we have never seen a Potter team go without a first down.

The Potters are lacking in experience at quarterback. Vince McKinnon is a senior, and it is not his fault that he didn't get vital experience last year. He was used strictly as a defensive safety man and played behind two senior quarterbacks, Ken Cunningham, an all-stater, and Craig O'Neil, a very capable replacement.

The brightest young prospect for the quarterback post is sophomore Chuck Baker up from Westgate, but he has a lot to learn.

Senior Jerry Bell, from that fine football family, has more speed than any of the other backs and must be relied on as the threat in the Potter backfield.

Tom Kraft is probably the hardest running back in the Potter camp. He usually can be depended on to give an all-out performance.

At the right halfback post, Hedmond has selected Bill Durbin or Douglas to start. Durbin showed up well in flashes at Niles on several kickoff and punt returns. Douglas has the experience at the spot and could be the most consistent of the backs.

Up front, the Potters will suffer all season long by spotting weight to their opponents, it won't be as bad tonight as it was against Niles, but Central will still show an edge of about 20 pounds.

MACKALL POTTS MAYHEW

Mayhew To Start For Geneva . . .

WHEN GENEVA College opens its 1961 football season Saturday night at Beaver Falls against Waynesburg, Chester's Bill Mayhew will be in the starting backfield for the Geneva eleven.

The 160-pound terror of the gridiron is only a sophomore and would have cracked the starting lineup as a freshman, but he played behind Little All-American candidate Paul Pupi from Monaca.

Coach By Morgan used Mayhew last season in a game against Southern Connecticut when Pupi was injured and the Chester lad turned in an outstanding performance. He saw a lot more action after the Connecticut game, then was moved to the other halfback spot this season.

Mackall Is Fastest Wildcat . . .

BOB MACKALL, East Liverpool's former star quarterback, has been one of the most impressive sophomore performers in early practice at Northwestern University.

Mackall is not running first string, but he is the fastest back on the Wildcat varsity. He ran the 100-yard dash under 10 seconds in high school.

His passing is sharper also and in a recent scrimmage game he flipped a long touchdown pass. Northwestern opens its season on Sept. 30 at home against Boston College. Its first Big 10 battle is with Illinos on Oct. 7.

This 'N That In Football . . .

WE ADD our sympathy to the family of Mike Winters who died suddenly Thursday evening. The city has lost a fine police officer who went out of his way to help other people in an official capacity, but on many occasions in his own spare time. A former athlete himself, he was always a hard worker when it came to backing sports and especially the Tri-State Basketball Tournament which required a little extra effort on his part to keep the tournament alive during the past few years.

VETERAN Jim Potts will get the call as the starting quarterback for Bowling Green in its opener at Marshall University Saturday night in Huntington.

The second team all-Mid-American Conference selection from East Liverpool has sharpened his passing and ball-handling the past week to the extent that Coach Doyt Perry has decided to start the experienced signal caller.

REMEMBER Tom Yakubowski of Adena, Ohio, who was here last winter to help pay tribute to his Purdue teammate Bernie Allen? Tom has reinjured his knee and will be lost to the Boilermakers for the remainder of the season. Yakubowski is a junior.

Tom Bloom of Weirton, who also attended the Elks' "Bernie Allen Night", is slated to start at halfback for Purdue.

TIM ARCHER, the nifty ex-Potter end, played the full 60 minutes in one game and saw considerable action another contest in Findlay College's first two victories of the season.

—:—

FOOTBALL polls (you can take them for what they are worth) have already started. The Associated Press poll will come out for the first time next week, but the United Press-International ratings came a week earlier.

Here is what the top 10 looked like: Massillon was an automatic choice for the top spot. Second was Niles, with Alliance third. On down the line in order were Sandusky, Hamilton Garfield, Cincinnati Roger Bacon, Mansfield, Cincinnati Purcell, Steubenville (Big Red) and Martins Ferry.

TONIGHT'S predictions: Steubenville Central 42, East Liverpool 6; Wellsville 20, Toronto 12; Beaver 28, Midland 14; Chester 7, South Side 6; Hopedale 27, Newell 13; New Cumberland 20, Madonna 14; Springfield 32, Salineville 8; East Palestine 22, Sebring 8; Leetonia 14, Louisville 6; Lisbon 14, Minerva 12; Stanton Local 22, Wayne 8 and Salem 26, Ravenna 8.

—:—

SATURDAY'S contests: Beaver Local 26, Union Local 14; United 20, Springfield Local 12; Lowellville 34, Crestview 8, and Columbiana 14, Poland 6.

—:—

STEUBENVILLE Central's new football coach Dick Pont is a brother of John Pont, who is the head grid mentor at Miami (Ohio) University. John was one of the greatest football players in Miami's history. He is the school's top ground gainer and the first time he carried the ball as a collegian ran 94 yards for a touchdown.

The Pont brothers are from Canton originally.

LOU HOLTZ of East Liverpool, who is an assistant coach at William & Mary, will be on the sidelines Saturday when Virginia and W&M meet and may witness the end of one of the longest losing streaks in the nation.

Virginia has lost 28 games in a row, tying Kansas State's major college record for consecutive defeats while William & Mary has an eight-game streak of its own.

Hedmond Juggles Lineup For Central

4,000 Expected To See ELHS In First Home Contest Tonight

Since the Potters opened the season 13 days ago at Niles, several changes have been made in the starting lineup for tonight's encounter with powerful Steubenville Central in the 1961 home opener at Patterson Field. Kickoff time is 7:45.

A crowd of some 4,000 is expected to watch the two Ohio Valley opponents meet for the 11th time. Steubenville has a slight edge in the series with five wins to four. One game ended in a tie.

Potter coach Bob Hedmond, who earlier this week dropped three seniors for "disciplinary reasons" and is also riddled by injuries, has taken the role of master juggler in coming up with a lineup for tonight's encounter.

Sophomores and juniors dominate the starting offensive and defensive lineups.

Ed Six, a regular defensive halfback dropped from the squad, will be replaced by a tough little junior — Tom Kraft — while Scotty Musuraca or Bob Parsons, two juniors, will take over a guard post left by Clyde Griffith, who went the same route as Six.

—:—

The Potters' offense was near a dead stop at Niles in the opener. East Liverpool failed to pick up one first down and didn't get any closer than its opponent's 25-yard line.

The best of the breakaway runners in the backfield is Jerry Bell, who is the fastest of the Potter backs.

Looking over the line situation, one of two sophomores will be starting at left tackle. They are Bud Manley (205) or Dave Oliver (185), both graduates of Westgate Junior High. Another sophomore, Bruce Burbick, started at center against Niles, but it is btween him and Ron Kennedy, a junior.

AT ENDS will be Jim Richardson, 140-pound senior, while atom-size Bub McElhaney, weighing a mere 130 and a junior, will get the nod at right end.

On the right tackle post will be veteran lineman Jim Ferello, a 190-pound senior.

Musuraca, 185-pound junior, has been named for the right guard post, while Jim Wilson, a tough 140-pound junior, or Parsons will be starting at left guard.

Defensively big Jeff Hayes, who hits close to the 200-pound mark, will go in at tackle, with Manley, Ferello, Parsons, Richardson and McElhaney across the forward wall.

Durbin and Musuraca will be used at linebacker spots, with John Sparks and Kraft at halfbacks. Either McKinnon or sophomore Chuck Baker will be in at safety, Hedmond said.

THE POTTER coach saw Steubenville Central in action last week against Columbus Aquinas and when asked about tonight's game, replied:

"We will have to play topnotch football. We can't afford many mistakes against a team like Central. They capitalize on mistakes, that's what happened in the Columbus game.

"Steubenville has two of the best receivers and one of the finest passers I have seen in sometime."

Hedmond was referring to receivers Jim Gilday, who has caught three touchdown passes, and end Dan Abramowicz, the favorite target of "Slingin" Sammy Fornsaglio.

"Short or long, Fornsaglio hasn't thrown a bad pass yet this season," Hedmond added.

The Central quarterback has six touchdown tosses to his credit in two games.

Coach Dick Pont, in his first year as Central's head mentor, has made a late change, moving tackle Bob Hagerty, a 220-pound junior, to fullback. Hagerty is reported to be equipped with speed for his size. He will play both ways, holding down a tackle post on defense.

Cincy's Magic No. Now Is 4

Reds Take On Frisco, Eye First Since 1940

By TED SMITS

The Cincinnati Reds, their first National League pennant in 21 years almost within grasp, take on the San Francisco Giants tonight at Crosley Field while their fading rivals, the Los Angeles Dodgers, journey to St. Louis to do battle with the Cardinals.

The key number is four. Any combination of Cincinnati victories or Los Angeles defeats making four assures the pennant to the Redlegs for the first time since 1940.

Cincinnati has Bob Purkey (16-11) ready to send against San Francisco's Billy O'Dell (5-5). The honor of being chosen to oppose the New York Yankees in the World Series might be finalized this weekend.

Certainly the schedule favors the Reds. They play San Francisco again Saturday and then go on the road for their four last games—at Chicago Sept. 26, and at Pittsburgh Sept. 29 and 30, and Oct. 1.

The Dodgers will be on the road from now to the end of the season and have a much busier time of it. Two more games after tonight will be played at St. Louis and then the Pirates will be met at Pittsburgh Sept. 25 and 26, the Phillies at Philadelphia Sept. 27 and 28, and the Cubs at Chicago Sept. 30 and Oct. 1.

The Yankees, out scouting the Redlegs in force, are now reconciled to playing Cincinnati. They would have preferred the Dodgers. The reason, of course, is that the Coliseum in Los Angeles holds 92,000 for a baseball game and Crosley Field a bare 30,000. This makes a big difference in the players' share of the series receipts.

There were no games scheduled in the National League Thursday.

College Grid Schedule Will Open Tonight

By The Associated Press

Georgia Tech and Southern California, accorded at most the accolade "could surprise", start the weekend's college football activity tonight in that old baseball park, the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Whether Georgia Tech will feel that 60 minutes is too long depends on how far junior quarterback Stan Gann has come after a so-so sophomore season that torpedoed his big buildup.

The Trojans, uncertain in the line after losing the McKeever brothers, Mike and Marlin, and gigantic tackle Dan Ficca, have a bevy of halfbacks that present an improved running game. But their passing offense is still untested.

Elsewhere tonight, Detroit opens its season against Western Michigan, University of the Pacific plays speedy San Jose State, a winner last week against Brigham Young, Louisville meets Eastern Kentucky and Chattanooga plays Tennessee Tech.

There is a strong intersectional flavor on Saturday's card as the season begins to pick up steam. However, Iowa and Ohio State, ranked 1-2 in The Associated Press' pre-season poll won't begin until next weekend, nor will Michigan State (No. 6), another Big Ten power.

Third-ranked Alabama will see how strong its offense is against Georgia. Texas, ranked fourth and a co-favorite with Rice's Owls for the Southwest crown, are on the West Coast against weak California.

The Owls have their work cut out for them against defensive giant Louisiana State (No. 5), in a night game.

The East's top game pits seventh-ranked Penn State against Navy, which is minus its All-America Joe Bellino, and has only two starters back from its Orange Bowl team. Syracuse, (No. 10) another eastern power pits All-America back Ernie Davis against Oregon State and its great performer, Terry Baker, on the West Coast.

The day's television game is the opener of a day-night "doubleheader" in Jackson, Miss. There, Mississippi, last year's SEC titlist, plays the 1960 SWC winner, Arkansas (ABC-TV, 4:15 p. m. Eastern Daylight Time) while at night Texas Tech meets Mississippi State.

In TV Bout Saturday

BOSTON (AP) — Paoli Rosi seeks to square accounts with Jackie Donnelly of Buffalo, N.Y., Saturday night in their nationally televised (ABC) lightweight rematch.

Boston Garden is the site of the scheduled 10-rounder.

Donnelly, 22, edged Italian-born Rosi, the veteran 26-year-old video campaigner, in a split decision July 8 in Buffalo.

Maris Fails To Hit No. 60 In Four Times At Plate

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Roger Maris, one homer shy of matching Babe Ruth's record 60-homer total of 1927, failed to get No. 60 Thursday night in four tries as the American League champion New York Yankees lost to the Baltimore Orioles 5-3.

That left Maris, who no longer can officially tie the Bambino's mark under the 154-decision limit set by Commissioner Ford Frick, with seven games in which to match or surpass the Babe on the AL's expanded 162-game program.

The Yankees, idle today, move into Boston next for a two-game set Saturday and Sunday, then return home for a pair with the Orioles and a windup three-game series with the Red Sox.

"I intend to play every game the rest of the season," insists Maris, who hit No. 59 at Baltimore Wednesday night and became the first player in major league history to come that close to Ruth's record.

He didn't get anywhere with Jack Fisher who brought his record to 10-12 with a three-hitter.

Fisher kept the Yanks—using mostly reserves — away from the plate except in the sixth when they came up with two unearned tallies as Bob Hale reached base on an error and Tony Kubek hit a two-out, pinch-hit homer.

The Orioles had snapped a 1-1 tie in the seventh with a four-run uprising against Bill Stafford (13-8).

In the only other AL game scheduled, Minnesota beat Washington 6-3 with an 11-hit attack featuring a triple by Harmon Killebrew and doubles by Bob Allison and Joe Altobelli. Jack Kralick (13-10) won it with Bennie Daniels (10-11) getting the loss.

There were no games scheduled in the National League.

Kiwanians Told Potters 'Up' For Central Tonight

The East Liverpool Potters football team is "up" for tonight's game with Steubenville Central and expects to score, Bob Hedmond, coach, told the Kiwanis Club Thursday.

Hedmond said the team's morale is high, and the players have made a good showing during practice sessions this week.

Hedmond pointed out the Steubenville team has not been scored against this season, "but we expect to make a good showing."

The head coach discussed the football program, and the offensive and defensive lineups for the game. He introduced his staff, including Nunzio Polichene, Rey Peduzzi and Jack Bair.

Merrill Hall, program chairman, commended the coaches and the team, and urged support of the Potters.

First To Conquer Swim

Argentinian Goes Nonstop Across Channel Both Ways

By JOHN FARROW

DOVER, England (AP) — Antonio Abertondo slumped into an easy chair today after becoming the first man to swim the English Channel both ways nonstop and said:

"I think the total swim must have been nearer 100 miles."

The 42-year-old Argentinian made channel history by swimming from England to France and back again in 43 hours, 5 minutes.

The 5-4 210-pound swimmer battled the cold waters and changing tides of the 22-mile stretch of the channel without complaint.

Soon after stepping ashore at Hope Point—between St. Margaret's Bay and Kingsdown on the English south coast — Abertondo broke into tears as a handful of holidaymakers and reporters sent up a cheer.

"I felt certain I could swim the channel both ways without a stop after I completed 80 hours in the water in the Rosario-Buenos Aires swim," Abertondo said as he relaxed in his hotel.

"I have been swimming long distances for many years and I felt sure that this was what I could do."

The Argentinian started the swim early Wednesday morning from Shakespeare Cliff near Dover. It was raining hard and the seas were choppy. The channel stayed choppy for four or five hours and then calmed down.

Abertondo was swept several miles up and down the channel by the flood and ebb tides. It took him 18 hours, 50 minutes to reach France.

He had a brief stop on the French coast—about two or three minutes—and then set off back, once again bucking the tides.

Altogether, 107 swimmers have swum the channel since Capt. Matthew Webb of England first did it in 1875 in 21 hours 43 minutes.

But only Abertondo has made it both ways nonstop.

Henry T. Adios Wins Little Brown Jug Pace

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — A pacer with a bigger than usual heart and a smaller than usual driver reigned today as winner of the 16th annual $70,000 Little Brown Jug for 3-year-old sidewheelers.

Henry T. Adios, a bay colt, snatched the four-heat feature Thursday from a field of 19, biggest in its history, and boosted his two-year payroll to $125,583.44 with a $21,721 payoff.

With the cash carved into five pieces in each of three heats, and a single slice for the fourth, the victor's share was the fourth smallest ever paid in the classic event over Delaware County Fairground's half-mile oval.

Stanley Dancer, 34-year-old driver who stands 5-9 and weighs 130, piloted Henry T. to his conquest.

Lang Hanover, the chestnut colt owned by Cincinnati's Samuel Huttenbauer, won the first section of the divided field in 2:01, beating Adios by a half length.

Way Wave, bay filly owned by the Castleton Farm of Lexington, Ky., took the second section in 2:01 1-5, hitting the wire a neck ahead of Henry T. Adios.

The first five came from each of the first two heats for a runoff and Henry T. romped home in 1:58 4-5.

That brought the three heat winners back for the big one.

Clinton Card Set Sunday Afternoon

Due to the cold weather that moved into the Tri-State area, the Greater Pittsburgh Speedway will move the weekly racing program to Sunday afternoons starting this week.

Time trials will start at 1:30 p.m. and the first race will get under way at 2:30 p.m.

With the closing of many tracks in the Tri-State district, many new cars and drivers are expected to make their appearance at the Greater Pittsburgh Speedway this coming Sunday.

The Hard Top Division cars will run their regular two heats and feature event in addition to the Super Modified Bombs seven events.

Columbiana Group Sets Sunday Shoot

The Columbiana County Fish and Game Association will hold its first "ham and prize" shoot of the fall season Sunday at 1:30 at the club's range just off Route 7 on the Elkton Rd. Trap and still targets will be featured and lunch will be served.

The matches will be held throughout the winter. The dates were Oct. 8 and 22; Nov. 5 and 19th and Dec. 3, 17 and 31.

Amateurs Set To Duel At Canfield

The 1961 stock car racing season will reach a climax for the amateurs on Saturday night at Canfield Speedway as they duel in a 40-lap season championship event.

This new division in its first year has grown to some 70 cars and most of them will be on hand this week for action on the quarter-mile track.

The late models also will be on hand for the 10-race program, making a total of some 85 to 90 cars in action. The late models will duel in a 25-lap feature.

Many of these new drivers come in from the Trumbull County area. Tops among them is Harold Parker, who copped his first win of the season last week. The Girard pilot also was second in the pursuit and third in a heat duel.

Other Trumbull stars include Harold Gibson, Ed Rosner and Bob Stephens of Warren, Steve Balog and Corky Whorley of Girard, George Potter and Don Beach of Niles, Buck Rutledge of Cortland and Lloyd Washington of Mineral Ridge.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

TV Inquests Offer Happy Hunting Ground

Inquests into television entertainment still offer a happy hunting ground to the politically-minded, as attested by the continuance of Sen. Thomas Dodd's probe into TV's effect on juvenile delinquency and the resumption of the Federal Communications Commission's hearings into program practices next Tuesday. It is, to the reporter who attempts to measure industry reaction to these interminable interrogations, one of the great surprises of television that so many remain of tranquil mind.

Marie Torre

Not only is there widespread imperturbability, but there is also a patent feeling among responsible members of the industry that these investigations never should end.

LOGICIANS compare their effect to the highway driver who slows down upon sighting a patrol car.

Putting it in television terms, a continuing investigation produces the healthy effect of self-improvement, while the recommendations that bring to a close the work of any investigation committee often raise questions of political censorship and control.

This appreciation for what Washington committees accomplish while in existence is reflected in many ways.

A network man, for example, attributes the cancellation of the high-rated "The Untouchables" by ABC's affiliated station in Cleveland as one of the beneficial results of the anti-violence headlines that have come out of TV probes.

ANOTHER network executive points to growing selectivity on the part of buyers in the television market as something else brought about by Washington watchfulness.

And an actor-producer named Dick Powell comes out for TV investigations even though they have been known to affect at least one of his properties adversely.

Powell relates his experience with Gertrude Berg's "Mrs. G. Goes to College," one of the situation comedies produced by Four Star Productions, of which he is president.

"I recently noticed," said Powell, "that about 30 stations in the CBS lineup did not plan to carry the show. I attempted to do something about it by calling the individual station managers myself.

"WHAT I LEARNED was very interesting. I found out that some stations had decided against taking the show, not because they didn't think it was good, but because it didn't fit into their plans for balanced programming, the very thing critics say TV doesn't have enough of.

"Whereas stations once thought nothing of scheduling a full evening of situation comedy, they're now taking pains to see that a night's programming has a little of everything—comedy, drama, music, news and public affairs.

"I hate to see the Gertrude Berg show not used by every station, but I'm encouraged by this trend. I think it's good that station managers now are taking a careful look at their schedules."

POWELL, who will have his own anthology series, "The Dick Powell Show," on NBC this season, also points to assorted directives from networks to TV producers.

"On the subject of violence, the word is, don't kill unless necessary—just wound 'em," Powell explained.

"The recent payola scandal inspired other rules. Saying "Scotch' or 'bourbon' on TV is now taboo. We use instead terms like 'drink' or 'an old-fashioned' or 'martini.' Also, a car is a car, never a Cadillac or Rolls-Royce any more.

"I have no quarrel with rules of this kind if they make for a better, cleaner TV."

In this agreeable state, Powell even appreciates and understands the motives of politicians who choose to make the entertainment field a target.

"If I were a politician," he remarked, "I'd investigate the entertainment world. Is there a better way to break into the headlines?"

Health Board To Ask Action On Nuisance

The Board of Health decided again Thursday night to ask City Council what steps it has taken to abate a health nuisance at Columbian Park.

Board members reported they are continuing to receive complaints from nearby East End residents and pointed out the board has asked Council repeatedly to abate the nuisance. Stagnant water collects, creating a health hazard.

The problem first arose several months ago when the health board asked Council to take action. A Council committee conferred with W. Leland Thompson, owner of the tract, who promised to take corrective steps.

Dr. E. G. Kuhlman, health commissioner, presented reports from various departments at the board's meeting.

Sanitary Inspectors Septimus Cook and John Owen completed 294 inspections of food handling establishments and other investigations during the month.

Mrs. Luella Bevan, registrar of vital statistics, reported 116 births and deaths in the city during the period between Aug. 17 and Sept. 20.

E. R. Liebschner, chairman, presided. Next meeting is Oct. 19.

Groups Plan Observance Of Fire Prevention Week

The program will be in charge of the safety committee of the Chamber of Commerce with the co-operation of local members of the Fire Underwriters Association and Local 24, International Association of Fire-Fighters.

Educational material, including fire safety check lists, will be distributed to schools in East Liverpool, Calcutta, Glenmoor, Chester and Newell. The distribution will be made by the Chamber committee.

The city fire-fighters' local has been asked to co-operate in the campaign by placing displays in store windows, distributing Fire Prevention Week posters and other materials and by conducting fire safety inspections in business places and homes, where requested.

Chief Charles Bryan and Asst. Chief James Pelley have asisted the Chamber committee in the preliminary planning.

Trio Indicted In Theft Face Arraignment

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three men indicted on charges of bank robbery by a federal grand jury are to be arraigned Sept. 29.

The indictments were returned Thursday before Federal Court Judge Charles J. McNamee.

Charged with the $19,613 holdup of the Union National Bank branch in Wickliffe near Youngstown June 7 was Daniel J. Ford, 51, of Youngstown. The indictment accused Ford, an unemployed house painter, of putting a bank employe's life in jeopardy with a .38 caliber revolver.

George E. Bentley, 43, and Logan Mullins, 26, were charged with kidnaping two women July 2 and transporting them from Avon Lake to Jackhorn, Ky. The indictments said the women—Dorothy M. Aboard Luxury Vessel

Ike And Mamie 'Gamble' —Winnings Fight Cancer

By ROBERT HOLTON

ABOARD THE NIEUW AMSTERDAM (AP) — A chap named Eisenhower — Dwight D. Eisenhower — won about $60 shooting crap aboard this luxury vessel early today.

Unconfirmed reports have it that his lady—Mamie—did even better at the roulette tables.

And there were other notables aboard who pitted their skill against lady luck—one governor, a senator, dozens of foreign diplomats and a goodly portion of those whose names appear regularly in the blue book of social lions.

They all did it to fight the cancer which 15 years ago took the life of Damon Runyon—a writer who immortalized the "floating crap game" which had been outdone at last.

The liner left from Hoboken — across the harbor in New Jersey —under sponsorship of the New York City Committee of the American Cancer Society.

"I just bet on some fellow holding the dice whom I had never seen before and by gosh I came up a winner," said the former President.

"I just played and won," said the former First Lady.

New Jersey's Gov. Robert E. Meyner and his wife steered clear of the lavish gambling establishment which went into full operation in one of the saloons of the ship the minute she went beyond the three-mile limit.

The likes of Runyon's seedy characters — Nathan Detroit and Harry the Horse—were evident by their absence.

In their places were such as the Rockefellers, the Drexels, the Frelinghuysens, the Gerrys and the Huttons.

Each paid $100 for a steak dinner, drinks and the legal right to lose a wad of money.

Nobody left the ship with more money than he had when boarding five hours earlier.

Early in the evening, Eisenhower indicated to friends that he would spend the time playing bridge with a willing expert named Robert Goren.

But the ex-President and his lady decided to try their luck at the tables instead, and ended up the wealthier for their decision.

Keep In Trim

Jack Benny Shares Youth Recipe

Middle age is not the same time of life for everyone, birthdays notwithstanding.

Take Jack Benny, for good example. He's been 39 now for going on 29 years. That's really an excellent record, and even better psychology.

Ida Jean Kain

A story in Today's Health last spring about this durable comedian is certainly well worth quoting.

"That 'only 39' gag my writers came up with was just about the best thing that ever happened to me," Jack Benny reports. "The cliche, 'You're only as old as you feel,' happens to be true. I feel young and as far as I can find out, I'm healthy."

WHAT, IN THIS comedian's opinion, is most important to keeping young . . . diet, exercise, or mental attitude? It's the latter. "To stay young in heart, think as young people do. Look forward, never backward. Work instead of worrying," he summed up.

This actor does not minimize the physical aspects of keeping young and vigorous. "To stay young-looking and keep healthy, you have to give some thought to it and work at it," he added. Mr. Benny gets regular outdoor exercise. And he watches his food intake.

"This is imporant and it's not likely that you can keep your weight where it belongs without counting calories. You can't have three chins and look young." So he controls starches, sugar, and fats. He uses sugar substitutes and drinks skim milk. He keeps his weight controlled even though he has stopped smoking.

It's well known that this veteran comedian has more energy, vitality, and bounce than performers half his age.

We all need to think young and banish our phobias about aging. Then the extra years added to our life span can be added to the best years of living.

We often think we might like to be younger if we could know all we know now. Well, in a wonderful way science has made this miracle come true.

SO LET US think of 50 as the high noon of life. Actually middle age can be an elastic period from 40 to 70.

When we lose our enthusiasm, we begin to grow old. When we stop learning, we start aging. When we stop using our bodies, the aging process catches up with us fast.

Since there is no physiological age at which we must stop all activity, there is no age at which we must grow old. This is by no means the same as hanging on to youth for dear life, but rather to keep our zest for living fully.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Four-Point Reading Program Offered

In most schools in the United States, the child may be set to read for several months before he is taught the alphabet. Some children won't even be taught to read for some weeks or months. The explanation by the school may be that he is not yet ready to begin to read. If either procedure applies to your child, don't argue with the teacher or try to change her ways. She is only doing what she has been taught to do or told to do by her "superiors". Here are some things you can do at home that will hardly hamper your child at school but should, in the long run, greatly help him:

1. KEEP ON reading to him from books or children's magazines he will enjoy.

2. Read some nursery rhymes and other musical verse to him, so he will enjoy sounds and the rhyming of words. After frequent reading of a rhyme, sometimes pause to let him fill in the rhyming word at the end of a line.

3. Call to his attention signs on the street, in stores and the like; and to names of foods and other articles on containers.

4. Make in large clear print some placards, naming a familiar article about the home on each placard — chair, table, door. Attach to or lay upon the object the placard naming it. Begin with just a few. Add more later.

In your own way, help him learn the words on each placard.

In like manner, you might have him cut out pictures of familiar objects, pasting these pictures on a sheet of cardboard or stiff paper, or in a scrapbook.

UNDER EACH picture print in large letters (not capitals) the word naming each object. These practices will give him the hang of learning names of things.

If your child has been taught for a few weeks or months to read at school, by the prevailing word-method, often called the "look and say method", you might wisely teach him the alphabet, a few letters at a time.

Be sure not to burden him with many letters all at once. It's better for him to attack one or two letters an evening than five or six of them.

By all means, if your child is in the second grade, make sure he can name every one of the 26 letters of the alphabet when he sees it.

My bulletins, "Helping Child at Home in Early Steps of Reading" and "Home Fun with Phonics," may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Ashtabula Welfare Shuts Door On 5,000

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—Ashtabula County's welfare department has closed its doors to the 5,000 county residents who rely on it for relief checks and surplus food.

The action was taken Thursday by John Koren, welfare director, who cited a recent ruling by County Prosecutor Robert Webb that the department cannot resort to deficit spending. The year's deficit now is estimated at $200,000. The entire 1961 appropriation of $770,000 already has been spent.

Killed In Collision

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Fannie M. Justice, 61, of Elyria was killed Thursday in a truck-car collision at the intersection of Ohio 303 and a county road in Lorain Twp.

America will lay a great deal of its scientific prestige on the line next April when it puts on public display a dramatic presentation of U. S. scientific achievement at the 1962 Seattle World's Fair.

16 Musicians Sue Cleveland Federation

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sixteen members of the Cleveland Orchestra have filed suit in U.S. District Court against the Cleveland Federation of Musicians, Local 4, to prevent the trial of orchestra members before union officials arising from a fight over contract negotiations.

Also asked in the suit is $320,000 in damages from the officers and executive board members of the union.
